(May 26, 2016 07:05 AM)_Kaye Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I have been using this bot for an hour or so and here is my first thoughts on it:

First of all, the proxy scraper is lightning fast. It got me 3,000 proxies in about 30 seconds and about 1,500 of them are working well currently, so thumbs up for that feature.

The second thing that went well is the account creator. I was able to make 28 accounts plus have all their emails verified within about 5 minutes, which is pretty good (very handy for CPA people). I did suggest to OP to add a custom description option and he said this is coming in future, so i'm excited about that.

I have been using the liker and follower with 15 accounts for the past 30 minutes with custom settings (30 seconds between likes, 5 minutes between 60 likes) and I haven't had a single account banned yet plus it is running extremely smoothly. Another vouch for this part of the bot.

So far, my view on this bot is it is amazing for the price and definitely worth getting.

I will post the second half of my review once I get a chance to try the other features. Thank you.

However, fagenorn is clearly the owners and developer of this great bot. We spoke for a while and after looking at the program, he took a couple of suggestions and pushed out a new update in less than 12 hours. It is clear that this bot is going to be one of the best, if not the best and already rivals the more know bots like massplanner and followlike.

It is easy to use and has a great look. With a bit of help from fagenorn, I was up and running and following people on my 6 accounts and the 20 I generated. The proxy is a great idea for creating the accounts and its done quickly and with so much ease and they are emailed verified.

You can add profile comments and photos, again with a couple of clicks. As well as like and unfollow. You can also scrape photos and schedule photo uploads. It allows you to upload from your computer as it uses the android api.

There are so many options to the bot, I don't think I will use them all. Fagenorn will have to produce an instruction book soon, as the program gets bigger and bigger with every update.

PVA issue is nothing to do with the software itself. its how much excessive activity you put on the account. if fresh, i would start slow, if aged to 1-2 years it capable of more excessive activity

Yes, I thought About that, The tool will that's why use a custom coded paraphraser:

Original: Guys, I am on vacation tomorrow, so ill be busy. Hope you like my newest pic <3

Paraphrased: Folks, I am in the midst of a furlough tomorrow, so sick be occupied. Trust you like my most up to date pic <3

If you wish to create 100k accounts, you are going to need MANY proxies, like assuming you are going to use public proxies, you will need at least 500k proxies. Following one specific user will be no problem since you are using proxies, and the account you follow is perfectly safe since Instagram has no way of telling if that user is explicitly the one using bots and not some rival.

Also something to note: the speed at what you create accounts depends on your threads you set and your internet speed. (Using a VPN will greatly increase the speed at which it creates accounts)

You can leave the tool running on a vpn and it will keep creating accounts 24/7 as long as you provide it with proxies, and yes public proxies are fine you don't need paid ones, but you will have to use the proxy rebinder when the proxies die out, to rebind it with a working proxy.

How long would it take to create 20k accounts, and being totally new on this subject, would you be able to help with the proxies part of it?

How long would it take to create 20k accounts, and being totally new on this subject, would you be able to help with the proxies part of it?

I'll go ahead and answer for the OP since he's a close friend of mine.

It would highly depend on the proxies. The tool itself has its own proxy scraper which can scrape around 2-3k proxies.

Per cycle(grab proxy; create); would usually create around 100 account-200 accounts.

If you have a great proxy list, it would take you less than 12 hours to create those 20k accounts. If you have a shit ass one; you might end up doing it over in a route of a few days; unless you scrape -> start creator -> scrape -> start creator over and over.

I'm able to help out if need be or OP is open to help as well :)

It would highly depend on the proxies. The tool itself has its own proxy scraper which can scrape around 2-3k proxies.

Thanks for the in-depth answer. My only use for this would be to use these accounts to slap likes on my own pictures, they would last fine right? So assuming I'd purchase the tool lifetime, it has everything I need to create those accounts without much hassle? Or would I need go out and purchase proxy lists?

Edit: I am aware I'd need some other type of tool to use them for liking.

Could easily create those accounts with ease. Just 2-3 button clicks incl w/ proxy scraping since it's all automatic.

With the current version you are able to comment automatically based on hashtags, if you set up everything correctly (no links in comments, not too spammy, etc.) As for how many to comment is not individual per account, but global for all accounts.

Here is my only complaint - Sometimes, after a while, I get a comment error and I have to reset it and do it again. Otherwise, this is a great tool and I highly recommend it if you can't afford followliker or another well known instagram bot.

I hope you guys get this great tool! It's worth it! Especially if you can't afford followliker or any other tool.

Thanks seller!

Depends on what you're trying to do. As of the current version, it can't match up with FollowLiker. The thing he's currently working on will though :)

SO I'd say it's worth getting this.

I mean, does it have similar features as followliker?

Toby Flenderson - June 21, 2016, 1:15 pm

Looks interesting! Let me know when the version you are working on is finished!

n i g h t - June 21, 2016, 1:36 pm

Yeah, let me know as soon as it's available for purchase, and potentially if it's available for Mac. (I could run it in a VM but it would be a bit slower. Let me know!)
