Thread: Now a Free Service - A chance to get VERIFIED Service - DM to @Verified

@j0ey - May 26, 2016, 3:53 pm

Possibly get verified for FREE

I will send a DM to @Verified (the official twitter account for getting verified accounts) anything you like. The most common use of this is to send a verification request.

Your account has to have always followed the Twitter ToS, has never been suspended, and has to look at least somewhat professional. Profile can not be private either.

I have been able to get more than one person verified this way.

Don't know why some people only will buy when there's proof thinking everyone will get verified. If everyone were to get verified from this, he'd be changing $2k on the lower side of the scale. I have people who'd pay $5k for this.

This is a cheap service because there's a slim chance, if you'll only buy once or if someone gets verified, you should know there's a slim chance of getting verified, but this service is worth it for the price.

Best of luck with sales, OP, felt bad for you that some people are posting comments that aren't needed.

This.

Its $5, people pay thousands for a verified Twitter. ($15k due to the ads).

Dont expect anything, but $5 for a 1% chance to get verified is great.

'When you accept paypal let me know', I used to think with that same mentality, but then I realized if I have 100% legitimate intentions and had no shady background with the money in my paypal, I can easily get it swapped to BTC.

So I won't really and have no intentions on accepting paypal from anyone that is not like King of Hearts, because there is no reason to, if you truly wanted my service, you would get your currency swapped.

Possibly get verified for FREE

I will send a DM to @Verified (the official twitter account for getting verified accounts) anything you like. The most common use of this is to send a verification request.

Your account has to have always followed the Twitter ToS, has never been suspended, and has to look at least somewhat professional. Profile can not be private either.

I have been able to get more than one person verified this way.

This is now your second attempt in posting on my thread with something I can't even comprehend?
If you actually read my OP you would know I would need your twitter handle, and taken it on yourself to get me that information in SOME WAY.

Again, there you go, so far you've gained +2 brainless post count from my thread.
