Thread: Ethereist Award \(Limited Time Sale\)

Omniscient - May 28, 2016, 3:07 pm

It was suggested earlier in the week that I add an ETH award (Ethereum) so I have.

Award Image:

For the first 48 hours it's on sale at only $15 USD. It will be $20 starting on Tuesday.

You can buy the award for yourself or a friend by going here:

<https://hackforums.net/buyawards.php>

For those interested in learning more about ETH...

<https://www.ethereum.org/>

Currently ETH is the highest valued alt-coin behind Bitcoin.

Here are some interesting articles about Ethereum and why I believe it will continue to rise in value and has potential to be even higher than Bitcoin.

I've been reading up on the buzz associated with ETH for a while. It stands out pretty far beyond what other alt-coins have tried to do.

Darkwallet is a great extension for chrome, it's really convenient to have a BTC wallet built into the browser, if you use Chrome. ?

You can also just use an exchange for a wallet like Bittrex.

For those having trouble with their wallets syncing and don't plan to further experiment with Ether, I suggest using a service such as ShapeShift and have them send it directly to the CoinPayment address opposed to having it sent to your individual wallet then to the CoinPayment address. I managed to exchange and earn the award within 30 minutes.

If you guys don't know how to buy the award, use Guide To Buying Ethereum \(ETH\) by RYAN REYNOLDS ?

Just got the award, thanks Omni.

Omniscient - May 31, 2016, 11:36 am

Award is now $20 in ETH.

Thank you everyone who gained the award at the discounted price.

This Crypto Currency thing is a bitch. Downloaded a Bitcoin wallet and bought some Bitcoin so I could buy this award.

Bitcoin Wallet is still updating.

Oh well.

Blazin - May 31, 2016, 5:32 pm

Glad to support Crypto Currency. :)

Is there a blockchain.info equivalent for tracking payments? I saw it pop up on btce for trading, so I bought the award to test the water a little.

Is this what you are talking about? <https://etherchain.org/> I used this the other day to check on a payment and to see if it sent. If that is not it, I know there are definitely other ones out there.
