Thread: How to Resolve IP on Skype MANUALLY - NO RESOLVER NEEDED

?Fetz? - June 3, 2016, 7:27 pm

Step One -Download Skype-Deob:

<https://www.sendspace.com/file/nhtwyx>

I got this somewhere forever ago. Pretty sure it is safe, but am too lazy to scan it. Scan it yourself.

Step Two (Can't think of a good title)

Extract that shit and load go ahead and load in the registry keys.
Double click "logging-on.reg" and "logging-off.reg"

Step Three (STILL Can't think of a good title)

Launch the Skype.exe in the fucking folder you got from the rar archive.
Login like usual. All that bullshit.
Now. Find the person you need their IP and shoot them a message. They don't always have to reply to the message, but normally they do.
Make sure you get his username too.

Step Four - Finding the IP

You should see a file that looks something like this in your Skype-Deob Folder:
[img]http://image.prntscr.com/image/e26980964afd4d539062a87352eb555a.png[/img]
What you want is that fucking debug file. If you have multiple ones, open them all because I have no fucking clue which one the IP will be in.
USE NOTEPAD++
(Note, if notepad++ says "this file has been modified... do you want to reload it... HIT YES)

Now. Ctrl+F and search the term
Code "skypename.*(r)[1-9]"
Once you find their username next to noticing, look for the "-r"
[img]http://image.prntscr.com/image/b1dd1cd7d6574a55aaa080fa5d57a569.png[/img]

That is their IP! Enjoy!

Try this instead, open the debug file in Emeditor and type in skypename.*(r) [1-9]

Remove the space after the r because HF changes (r) to ®

Another way you could do this is to get a skype grab filter for wire shark and give them a call (they don't have to answer).. but this seems a lot more convenient. Thanks for the tutorial!
