Over a year in the making, its finally here! Crown and Geo proudly present our montage featuring spots found entirely by themselves. This video took thousands of hours of practice and execution in the course of the entire year! Be sure to leave a like and feedback!

There has been a huge debate with The Halo Forums. They are being extremely biased and one of the people we competed with said we "faked" a clip. Since it was me vs over 30 of them they out ruled me and it turned into a shit storm. It really sucks that years of work all crashed so quick due to one small asshole forum. :/

Okay, I'll do that right now. And thank's bro :D That no-scope was right off the bat. We literally got the sniper, went for the spot, and got a kill a few seconds after haha

I've started playing mcc recently.

I'm trying to gather clips and put a 2nd montage out.
Takes time.

Man, I really miss spending hours and hours on this game. Last time I played it nobody was really on. Didn't they do a remaster for the new xbx?

Good luck man, it's time consuming as hell but you'll get what you want. :)

Yes, MCC: Master Chief Collection.
