Loathe - June 13, 2016, 9:15 am

This season I've been keeping up with the Asterisk War, only because I was really intrigued by the first season, with Ayato being such a mystery. I am also watching Re:Zero, so far its the best this season imo, since it consists of comedy, action, romance (even if comedic), and mystery (the whole restart thing). Some side ones that I've been sort of keeping up with is the Twin Star Exorcists, the animation is cute, and I like the whole "fight demons/angels" thing that goes on in anime, (I loved HDxD ;P) and that Big Order one, its quite confusing as the story is full of holes, and quite rushed if you ask me.. but overall it was a good idea, so it doesn't completely fail.

Death Gun? - June 14, 2016, 8:57 am

I just finished watching K and am debating on whether or not I should watch the second season of it. However, I am currently watching Nura: Rise of the Yokai Clan: Demon Capital.
