We are giving away a HackForums award to the first 250 members to join from HackForums!

Just sign up & send me a PM on site stating your HF username

Smitedbro - June 9, 2016, 5:35 pm

To be honest...90% of currently forums are same. HF is probably biggest of them. Actually doesn't even worth to open one.

It's just about the person, if you like to host and make something you like, just go for it. Good luck mate!

Change the colour of the names of Admins, it's too bright of a red for the themes background. It actually hurts my eyes.

What colour would you recommend?

(Jun 10, 2016 03:55 PM)ThePlugLTD Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What colour would you recommend?

I would just suggest a different tint of red, use a hex changer and mess with them till one appears to be better. I just did it and this seems okay: #b50303

Example: <https://gyazo.com/2e39a52ad4f685f129811656a8095474>

That's just inspect element on some of them. Both current and the one I put above.

Seeing too many theme bugs but other than that the site looks fine. An overwhelming amount of MyBB forums are being made everyday so making major differences in your forum is essential to beat the competition. Everyone's offering the same old stuff.

You clearly didn't read that entire line. You sound pretty guilty if you instantly defended instead of reading the last bit of it.

Whoever this is Aoki is stole it, or bought it from me.

That or the person I gave it to for a bit sold it/gave it away.

It sure isn't unique though.

Your thread design isn't either.

The funny part is that you don't even have the thread design PSD.

I do.

I owned Discussion.sx when it was popular, sold it, and then it died because the person who bought it could have done a better job.

You also got the forum icons from my website.

Whether you bought it or not is up in the air, but my guess is either you bought ripped content from some asshole, or you bought all of the content from one of my buddies who had a copy.

Oh, also your database is either stolen, or used from mine.

I checked through your posts and you basically just changed my account to yours. Nice.

Many of your links still lead back to when I owned discussion.sx.

On top of that your plugins weren't installed correctly and leave giant PHP errors on many pages.

You seem like you need help, or are in over your head.
