Stake a Poker Player

I have been playing poker for 13 years and have been playing professionally on the side for over 3 years. Today I will be allowing people to stake me in my poker tournaments, and sit and goes. The minimal amount you can invest/stake is $50 and the max is $2500. I will be playing on skype screen share so you can watch me play.

For some more information you can go to my template website HERE

Edit: I can also play on the youtube live stream if you would like to watch

Very Important:

I will only be answering questions through skype video chat to stop time wasters. If you have legit questions you will pm me your skype and have a mic ready for a video chat. Sorry for this inconvenience

Investment Stakes

$50+ you will receive 70% stake in the profits I make + your original investment

Payment methods:

Because bitcoin use's btc and ltc, they will be the only payment methods I will accept.

How long do you normally play for :

I am willing to play 5-13 hours a day with your money, and you are welcome to watch as much of that as you would like via skype screen cast

If you're so good why do you need an investment

The more money I have the more money I make, if you invest $50, that is $50 that I didnt have before. I am not just playing with your money, when I screen share you will often see that I am at other tables playing with my money as well. Poker players do this, so they can earn more money. A example would be the site : <https://pokemarket.com/> where you can buy poker shares from jamie staples

I might do this, you seem to truly be a talented poker player. I am just hoping I can get some true winnings.

DuguWudi - June 9, 2016, 10:03 pm

What happen to loss then? This isnt a silly question.

You are investing in my poker abilities, if I was able to guarantee you a refund or something then I would have no need to use your money. The only reason I am using your money is because I am then able to make more than I already am, so it wouldnt make sense to give you 70% profit if I am going to refund or help pay back loses. This isnt a loan people it is a poker staking

Thanks alot I truly appreciate the kind words

Is it possible to get to watch you play before we invest? I consider myself to be a talented poker player as well so it would be nice to be able to watch you play so I can determine what type of skill you have and if I think it would be wise to invest in you or not.

FilmGuy - June 10, 2016, 11:56 am

I'm interested in trying out $50 how will you know when to stop?

Jack

When people start investing I will play on youtube live or have it recorded for you to watch

If you want to invest $50 and want me to stop at $100. Then I will, its all up to you

PleasantBeing - June 10, 2016, 7:23 pm

Has anybody done this yet?

No one yet sadly, I just played a $10k GTD tournament and busted close to the bubble on a bad beat. I have the video and am uploading it to youtube. I tried to stream it today but was having difficulties. I will however work on my stream and probably be at it again tomorrow with some low-medium MTT's

SIM-2793975 - June 11, 2016, 2:27 pm

send you pm, Thank you mate.

Eagerkid - June 11, 2016, 2:32 pm

If anyone has questions you will have to video chat me with a mic. Non negotiable, I cant sit around all day answering questions to people that are sitting at there house bored. If you have any real questions this shouldn't be a problem and a video chat should take 10-20 minutes instead of the 10 hours I spend answering skype messages. This also will stop people from messaging me and asking if they get refunds and silly questions like that. If you spend $1k+ you will get my contact information etc so we can become good friends. So for the inconvenience

I can accept BTC / LTC if this is something that you can agree to then I will PM you and we can get this rolling

FeinFitness - June 12, 2016, 8:55 am

This sounds very interesting. PM me, I might go ahead and do this. Thanks!

Lost his $50 investment on some unfortunate situations and hands. I recorded everything since he couldn't watch it live. Should have asked for more than $50 cause now only poker players will invest in my service lol because they will notice that this was a case of running horrendously and not remotely close to bad. I would love however for you to comment and review the video of my play, you said you played poker so I would like to hear what a fellow player would have to say about my game

You can post it here. I will let you know how you played.

I sent you the videos, I mean I did everything right and I got it looked over by a well known poker player. I always am ready for improvement, but this was not a case of me making a mistake that I can learn from. Just a case of running extremely bad, which doesnt happen all the time

Eagerkid - June 14, 2016, 2:31 pm

I will be bumping this up for those who are interested

Eagerkid - June 15, 2016, 2:53 pm

Bumping this up, looking for more people to work with
