I've never done anything too illegal, and I've never been caught for anything. My question is, how bad is jail? Is it really just sitting in a cell for 23 hours a day?

I'd love to hear some stories :p

This is a reddit thread that really gave me an insight into prisons. There are also tons of documentaries about prison life. Some of them are on Youtube.

from what i've heard from my friends who have gone to prison, you really just need to get connections while inside... or it will be a living hell. If you get on someones bad side... have fun.

I was in a juvi for almost a month, it was pretty great.

Food was decent

Got my own cell

Read the entire Harry Potter Saga in like 4 days

Rec time

Guard circled the cells at long enough intervals you could rub one out.

Here's a tip: always say you're suicidal, they will try to give you your own cell.
