Are these booters free? If so that stresser.win looks pretty strong.
650 mbps is hella good, thanks for sharing.

I guess it's pretty good for a free stresser c:.

All booters are run on Ecatel or OVH overpowered servers which echo results from different point to point connections. They use dedicated servers to boost the performance of their "stressers" and overhype the power in their sales thread when some of them are weak as anything and usually couldn't even hit a home connection off.

Thanks for this review, it is very helpfull!

btw doet je dstat het weer? skype me dan ff ;)

Stag - June 17, 2016, 6:57 am

This is a useful review for the peasants that can't afford $5 and the 12 year olds that boot people on minecraft hunger games :) nice man

Jallu - June 17, 2016, 7:01 am

Thank you for doing this :)
Might save me a couple $

May I ask if these are enough to boot off home connections?

Thanks man! <3

Also, if you have any stats on approximately how much a home connection can take before it usually shuts down, would be greatly appreciated!

Thanks!
