What's the aim of this game?

Also, I'm liking the fact you released a game dude, congratulations.

Mind posting a video of some gameplay?

?Kill? - June 17, 2016, 11:43 am

Is the game for ios? Imk i'll try it out of it is for ios also

It is a free arcade game in which you have to move down from beams and avoid spikes. I didnt develop it, and I can work on making a video soon :)

Not on ios yet, but will be in the future. Android only sense1 - June 17, 2016, 11:48 am

Awesome, if the video gameplay is good then I'll definitely get it.

(When it's available on the Apple Store, that is). Funny username by the way, lol.

Thanks alot man, I truly appreciate it. If you play it make sure to drop a review

MelT3d - June 17, 2016, 4:37 pm

Tried it a couple times. It's not too bad. it's something that'll I play for a week or so and not touch it again. But that is just me with these types of games.

I like it overall though.

Thanks alot for the review, Im glad it could kill some of your spare time!

Almighty Koen - June 17, 2016, 5:27 pm

I played this for a few minutes and my top score was 700 but I got some suggestions for you to make it more funny.

1. Make the blocks always moving and the further down you go they will move much quicker, this will put more challenge onto the game which makes the game funnier and more addicting.

Also, if you want some suggestions how to monetize this, hmu.

ImportedGoods - June 17, 2016, 5:36 pm

Once this is on ios ill be sure to check it out, looks interesting

Insomnolence - June 17, 2016, 5:42 pm

It's funny to me because as a game developer, I've seen games that look EXACTLY like that, and I'm pretty sure which engine you used cause it looks like all you did was use the premade demo and change according to what you wanted.

Kinda sad.

well... it says Unity3d in the beginning

[Rn] 7s^2 - June 17, 2016, 8:05 pm

I love the graphics of main menu or whatever that screen is. But what's with the white line to the bottom and right?

The game looks really interesting. I will download it.

How much years of experience do you have in coding?

This isn't the best section for this type of thread, you should probably check out this type of section: <https://hackforums.net/forumdisplay.php?fid=237>

You may get a better response there.

keyntero - June 21, 2016, 3:53 pm

Damn, that looks nice. I'll download it on my sister's tablet because I don't have a smartphone, but looking forward to try it. You did it all by yourself? How do you make your games? I'm trying to get into the apps-developing world too but I can't motivate to learn Java...

Uriii - June 21, 2016, 3:59 pm

rip, I am in iOS, although I congratulate you on getting your game up and running!

Java is a great language to start learning, and even with only basic knowledge, you can still make some pretty cool programs. Java is quite simple too and it's pretty easy to make games with.

Thanks alot, make sure to post or PM me your review :) I didn't code the game, and it is made using the unity3d game engine. If you want to get started, I would suggest going to <http://unity3d.com/> and maybe talking to some developers.

Uriii - June 21, 2016, 4:30 pm

I am going to check the game out later when I get home. Ill download it on BlueStacks. Good luck mate!

Looks cool bro, Gonna try this later today.

I can't install new apps/update old apps on my phone which really sucks because of the memory thing. My dad bought a new android phone two days ago so i'm gonna try your game on it later today when he returns home from work.

BTW, I may start designing a game for my college project soon. Since i'm a noob with this unity, I'll PM you if i need anything.

Ta-kun - June 24, 2016, 9:22 pm

Not bad man. Played it a couple times and it doesn't seem too shabby. Keep it up man.
