Thread: Previous Account

On my previous account, Ub3r w/ couple thousand post, I made the mistake of posting an infected script, in which infected a member of HF. The script wasn't infected by me, but it was infected by a friend of whom I trusted, I even scanned the code to make sure it wasn't infected, it was until after I posted it that I realized what was hidden in the code. This resulted in my account being closed.

I worked very hard on that account and I've helped thousands of members on this forum.

All I'm asking for is another chance with that account, my intentions have not and never will be malicious.

I highly doubt you will be allowed back. If you're going to post something that isn't yours you should 100000000000% be certain that nothing malicious is in the code.

I had years of partnership with this guy, I have posted many other things that he's helped me with in the past that were not malicious.

Bumping again, I'm still looking for a chance lol. Hopefully time has done forgiving for me and I'm allowed my previous account back to catch up with a lot of old friends.

Still sticking with the fact I was a dumbass and posted something I didn't review carefully.

Use the recovery forum

<https://hackforums.net/recovery.php>

Then it'll be up to the admins if they wish to believe your story.

So what i read here is that you "SHARED" your account with another user and the user spread-ed an infected link using your account?

I guess you did an grave mistake not about infected script but sharing of Account.
