Honestly best deal I've seen on this type of keyboard (usually $120+)
Get it while you can ?

Been reading alot about shitty build quality, not using real mx cherry switches but knock offs,Cheap palstic etc..

Honestly cant go wrong for 60$,

But if you're looking for great value keyboards that DONT BREAK, like literally these are the Nokia's under keyboards.

Then go for a Ducky Keyboard, they are extremely well built, but ive bought 2 ducky shine 3 tkl green led RGB space bar, and my first one was 150$ but that was when it first came out, they now sell for 99$ or lower.

They also have RGB keyboards and are well known for having sick build quality, support & absolutely offering a sick product.

Cheers

this keyboard actually comes with a 5 year warranty most boards come with 1 or 2.

For $65 its honestly a greatt deal.

I have the normal Poseidon Z Essentials, the one with the blue lights. It doesn't have cherry mx switches but it's still pretty good. It has some kind of knock off cherry mx blues, with the same clicky sound.

I can recommend this brand. ?
