I have an iphone 6 that is not jailbroken and I want to install a cydia app on it. Is it possible?

That is not possible, you would need a jailbreak to use cydia.

It is possible, there was a website that allowed you to install tweaks without jailbreaking your device, but the options are limited and you have to pay. I really don't think there's an easy way to do this but to jailbreak your device..

You can sideload tweaks, but only certain tweaks such as Snap+ or Instagram++. I don't you can sideload iOScallrecorder though.

Snap+ ?

Is this a standalone app or a tweak ?

As long as your tweak runs in a sandboxed environnement everything's good.

Any thoughts ?

Oh this is cool, though.

I hope it'll be compatible in the next jailbreak release.

Would definitely purchase.

It interacts with the Phone app, so not sandbox-friendly. IMO not possible.

To record calls on iPhone, disable call waiting, and make a 3-way phone call, #1 is you, #2 is the person you're talking with, and #3 is you calling yourself so it goes straight to voicemail, wait for the beep and merge calls.

If you have visual voicemail, you can even retrieve the audio file ;)
