Seigi, a martial arts trained middle schooler, often feels driven to protect the weaker people around him. One day, he defends a homeless man against some punks, and the man gives him a strange tattoo on his palm in return. The tattoo is a secret weapon produced in the arms race between America and the Serinistan Kingdom.

Seigi finds himself in over his head when a powerful girl, using the same secret weapon, violently pursues him in order to retrieve it. His skill at martial arts may not be enough to keep him alive, but will he be able to learn how to trigger the power of his tattoo in time?

I've been waiting for this one. Crossing my fingers for more than 12/13 episodes.

Aura - July 3, 2016, 5:25 am

I think I wanted to read the Manga at one point, because the synopsis looked good. Now that it got an Anime adaptation, you can be sure that I'll be watching it.

INVULBOX - July 3, 2016, 2:24 pm

I just watched the first episode, the fighting scenes are actually pretty good. I like where this is going, hope it doesn't turn out too bad! ?

You can visibly see where they cut corners in the normal scenes as to make the fight scenes better and it's great. Was much more intense and straight to the races than I was expecting

These last two episodes were pretty great. I love how the white haired and blonde lolis both have porn star names. Blonde loli is definitely my favorite so far though. She got that Yuno Gasai-esque going on.

Bibimbap - July 25, 2016, 9:58 pm

Going to check this anime out!

I'm actually really loving this series.

It's got a little bit of everything I like in it, and the concept behind it is kinda original. The plot's got some stale content but you can't ask for much these days.

Just hope the staleness doesn't get overbearing.

Keeping up with this anime. I'm having mixed feelings so far. It has intense action scenes with some actual gore but also has really lighthearted and almost childish scenes as well. I think this anime is having an identity crisis in weather it should be taken as a mature anime with actual moral conflicts or an edgy kids Shounen.

This latest episode has made me lost hope for all seriousness. Sure it had serious moments but it was too masqueraded by fanservice scenes. I do agree with you about there being a sort of identity crisis. It may just be an anime trying to deliver to both audiences though but it did at bad job making the only relevant antagonist thus far into a side show attraction.

Indeed. It has a potential filled plot but it completely loses all credibility by pandering to fan service and common cliches. Idk, maybe it will turn a new cheek; but as of now, I will begrudgingly follow along to see what happens.

redlightrouter - August 3, 2016, 5:02 pm

This one is pretty fun to watch.

Black Dahlia - August 6, 2016, 10:47 pm

Still not the worst thing airing this season.

Aura - October 23, 2016, 4:43 pm

Okay so that show started good, and then, the last half of Episode 5 started being weird and the show pretty much lost all it's appeal after that... Seriously. What's up with that mix of seriousness and random comedy?

Thanks for reminding me how shitty this turned out to be.

skelly76 - October 23, 2016, 8:02 pm

I liked it but the plot was too unrealistic which made watching the 2nd half of it boringish.

Seaking - October 23, 2016, 8:07 pm

This went on my list of "Started good, but ended in disappointment". I agree with most people that this had potential, but went no where with it.

Anime Manga - October 24, 2016, 2:55 pm

Let's say your into ecchi or Harlem or Highschool.. would this be in one? I'm sorry just trying to get a list noted down, don't need details just what a plot would be simply put here

Annoited - October 24, 2016, 3:17 pm

I only got to like the first 3 episodes, and the plot just fell apart, it gets really boring.

Aura - October 25, 2016, 6:36 pm

Jesus that show ended up being a fucking disappointment.

Glad you could finally catch up Aura ;)

Maybe next season will have the next big thing... :thinking:

Aura - October 25, 2016, 7:26 pm

Not even sure I want to watch the next season to be honest. I don't think it has been announced, though there will be one for sure.

I feel the exact same way. I feel like if a S2 exists they will end it very similar to how S1 ended and I'll be so disappointed in myself for believing it could be better.
