Thread: Best way to show affiliate products via Wordpress

Hey,

I'm creating an affiliate site/blog through wordpress and am trying to figure out the best way to show products from multiple website. The products are physical products so I guess for each product there will be a description and then a buy now button or something which leads them to the sellers site.

Thank you in advance for any information anyone can provide.

Thanks!

You could do this by either creating a table (using TablePress plugin or some equivalent), or by building a comparison page using Visual Composer.

I hope this helps! ?
