I like it. It's very creative. 8/10.

Zen - July 4, 2016, 12:50 pm

Love this. Looks like it could be the background for an album cover.

JasonSoModz - July 4, 2016, 5:28 pm

Looks cool but 5/10. I agree Kreature. Would look cool for album art oRequiem - July 5, 2016, 3:04 am

Creative.

I have to give it a 9/10 since I haven't seen something like this tbh.

Good job, OP!

Practice makes perfect ?

Wow this is really cool how do you do it? :D I wanna learn lol teh?ompany - July 6, 2016, 9:46 am

I looked up how to databend, damn I have never been so happy with my photos, holy shit. what did you use to databend this one?

BITCHLESS - July 6, 2016, 9:46 am

Wow! Looks awesome! I will set up this as my wallpaper

That's actually the look I was going for. Well spotted. P.S. if anyone wants something similar for album art, hit me up.

Process behind this was quite complicated. I spent a good 3-4 hours on this, and I work damn fast, so that's quite a lot for me. Confound, look up databending and glitch art tutorials. There's a lot of resources online on this type of stuff (obviously not the same thing, but it will get you started). hublot, look up "Processing" it's a great tool for programmatic image processing and an essential tool in glitch art. Other than that I used GIMP filters, and a lot (and I mean a lot) of work in After Effects.

Since I'm a total noob when it comes to this type of art, I can't really leave you a feedback/constructive criticism.

Anyhow! It looks really good in my opinion. :3
