Hey, if I were to purchase one of these, would I be able to run a Flask application? So: does it have Python installed/is it installable?

My week and a half review as I said

Plan Purchased
Squire

Reason I came here

So I came to this thread because it was stickied and they have low prices which I don't mind losing if the service bails on me. They also have pages of replies which to me shows that they've been around for some time. I came because I needed to host a file for a program update and for future updates. I also wanted a forwarder e-mail.

After Purchase

So I checked out did all that stuff, then I asked for their name server which they gave me without a problem and was pretty much set. I upload my file that I needed, then setup the forwarder e-mail. Everything is going great so far, then later I found out that they also have WordPress. So I tried to upload my backup from my previous hosting which then gave me errors. So then I contacted support and they started to help me fix it, but was needed to help other customers so they left me with a YouTube link on how I can do it myself. During this process I was not able to access Cpanel because it was down for "maintenance" so I had to wait 30 mins or so until it was back up. I started doing it ran into a problem then gave up since I already had what I needed and didn't want to spend anymore time on that.

Week and a Half Later

I click on my bookmarked website just to see how it is and noticed that it cannot be reached. I thought that was strange so I logged back onto my account and tried to go into my Cpanel and then I didn't have access and it said

"Action Failed Unable to auto-login. Please contact support."

Which is what I did, after being with a support member my website was apparently marked as "e-mail spam" which broke their Acceptable Use Policy according to support which I found strange because I only have 1 e-mail with them and it does not send any e-mails to anyone except to me. So I thought this is a bunch of crap, but what could I do? So I asked support to cancel my service and in the end that's what happened.

My Thoughts

I thought it was horrible of them to not at least once give me a warning about what was happening and I never got any notification that my hosting was provoked so who knows for how long it was down. I'm very disappointed with this service as I've never had any problems with HF services and I turn to HF to support the community. There is a lack of communication between the service and the customer, and that's what disappoints me the most. I would not recommend this service to anyone as they can't keep you in the loop of what's going on.

The only way I can see it directing your AUP was if I'm reporting my own e-mails as spam constantly. I don't want to sales trash, I posted my review like I said I would and that's that.
