this is a dead game nobody plays lol

Zexo - July 7, 2016, 4:36 am

(Jul 7, 2016 04:34 AM)??x???? Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I decided I would make an official thread on here so there isn't a ton of pokemon go threads.

Let's all start by saying what level we are and what Pokemon we have! ?

I'm currently a level 3 and have, Squirtle, Ponyta, and Geodude. There is a Abra nearby and I'm about to go get him!

I'm also wondering if there are any Pokemon Go related fatalities. ?

I'm sure there will be some fatalities but meh I'm lvl 3 almost 4 and I don't know what Pokémon I have all I know is I have 16.

Fudster - July 7, 2016, 4:37 am

You guys really want that subforum don't yall?

I'm sure there will be soon tbh. Sad to say. How do you not know which you have!!? What if you have some super rare ones!

(Jul 7, 2016 04:37 AM)Fudster Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) You guys really want that subforum don't yall? Well that and that there is just a lot to talk about with this game.

There isn't many ways you can share what you do so when you get a cool Pokémon you want to share it.

(Jul 7, 2016 04:37 AM)??x???? Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'm sure there will be soon tbh. Sad to say. How do you not know which you have!!? What if you have some super rare ones!

All I know is I have like an eevee and some other bland ones but eevee has the water evolution electric evolution and the fire one so that should be fun.

An?iety - July 7, 2016, 4:39 am

There is a lot of hype around this game. I believe a subforum would do way more justice than this thread. I just wanted to make an official thread so there isn't a ton of clutter around HF.

To me Pokemon was always a card game and a gameboy game, not a card game on the computer like hearthstone.

I personally don't see the point, no offence to any pokemon Go player!

bandors - July 7, 2016, 4:44 am

There really should be a pokemon go subforum, it's going to get so freaking popular. Came out 10 hours ago.

It's not a card game though. You go out and catch pokemon in real life.

Whaat!

I just looked around etc, most have been tricked by the WWW.

Anyways I'll take a closer look and then it may actually have some meaning to it in my silly little brain!

Thanks for clearing that up?

Well in Pokémon go you pretty much look at the map and you walk around until you find Pokémon and then you can catch them on your phone camera. There are other things such as land marks also that can give you cool things.

Ya it's pretty hot rn but I got some cool Pokémon nothing too special but found like 5 gyms and 20 land marks but driving and looking for pokemon isn't the safest thing to do. I prob pissed off quite a few people.

I just installed this, not available in my country but I did it by downloading an apk file.

I have 2 questions though, hope someone can answer.

- This will work anywhere right? Just because it is download locked to certain country doesn't mean it won't work elsewhere?

- Does this game require constant internet connection? I know you need GPS enabled but if it does I guess you would need to spend a lot on data plans.

Found a rhyhorn at the arcade and then it had 36 CP lmao.

Heres a strategy I have been running to level up fast.

1. Try to save at least

1 Incense

1 Lucky Egg (Level 8 or 9 you get a free one)

Lots of pokeballs

2. Put on the Incense and Lucky Egg and sit in your house

Catch any Pidgey's /Ratatayou see because it's only 12-25 Candy to evolve

Transfer any dupes for extra candy

Evolve Pidgey/Ratata and enjoy 1000 xp

Repeat

- You get 200 XP per pokemon caught

- 1200 XP for a new one

Nice, the furthest I've gotten away from my house so far is around my neighborhood because I don't feel like driving right now, so I just rode my longboard around.

Pretty much once you are level 5 you can go and find gyms that other players have taken over.

If you beat there pokemon you will take over the gym and you will have to leave your pokemon there.

When you lose the gym your pokemon will be returned though.

You just capture it by defeating any pokemon that are currently guarding it then you leave one of your pokemon there to guard it, but if it's owned by your team color then you don't have to fight. You can just add your pokemon to help keep the gym safe

Xerotic - July 9, 2016, 8:30 pm

For the next decryption you may need to utilize your coding skills and HF knowledge. I will explain the concept with an example first.

Name: Xerotic

Step One: Convert each letter to its number equivalent (1-26)

Output: (24, 5, 18, 15, 20, 9, 3)

Your job is to keep the order of the numbers and insert mathematical operators in between them (+, -, , /). The output will be a natural number.

We will tell you how many +'s, -'s, *'s, and /'s there are to be used.

Example: +: 2; -: 1; *: 2; /: 1;

Possible Solution: $25 + 5 \cdot 18 / 15 - 20 + 9 \cdot 3 = 38$

Obviously there could be multiple solutions. It is your job to find the correct one for the problem at hand.

Actual Username to Calculate: Omniscient

Signs Used: +: 2; -: 2; *: 4; /: 1;

We shall call that variable "y".

The key for the next encrypted message will be:

y ("BAN HAMMER" ADMINISTRATOR UID) * (HANZO UID) = key

Encrypted Message: Code

It's a lake, right next to a track, that also leads into some woods lol. I need charmanders cause charmander is the starter I picked.

Also caught Wartortle earlier today at the same spot. I traded one of my squirtles for candy cause the CP was really low on that one.

Just started playing this game for 2 days, have walked over 10km and almost did nothing with HF. Going to do a gym in a few min close to my home.

(tried to do a gym once but i lost because i didn't know at the start how to attack)

Mr. Corleone - July 10, 2016, 4:15 pm

This game is so much fun omfg..

Like 2 AM at night someone placed a module in a FUCKING forrest..

I walked there with my friend and we suddenly see like 10+ kids of 16-25 years old xD

This other time I was walking and suddenly a car stops next to me, some 20 yr old dude pops out an eevee doll and he asks if I am playing Pokemon.. I screamed YEAHHH and suddenly 3-4 people in the car started screaming along xD This was at 1 AM..

And I saw a car in the middle of the road stopping every 30-40 seconds to catch a fucking pokemon hahaha, this game literally can't get any better.

Also last night a friend of mine, my cousin, and I walked around a park that spawned a Dratini every 2 minutes. Then we went down town and got at least 5 levels of EXP as well as a bunch of eggs. One of my 10k eggs hatched into a Pinsir then a Mr. Mime. My cousin got a Chansey then an Eevee. Finally, my friend got an Aerodactyl then a Kabuto. When we left to go back to my cousins house, a Lickitung spawned outside and literally as we went to click on the poke it despawned.

Based on some "theSliphroad" data, there is a big correlation between water and water pokemon spawning but that does not mean water pokemon will not appear in other places. For example, I found a goldeen in a field.

Damn. I want one so bad as with Charizard. I wish we could upgrade our pokemon with stardust only.

Has anyone else been to a park with police pushing people out?

Like the park I was at had minimum of 200 cars all on the side parked with like 300+ people outside and cops just rolled up saying keep moving or you're gonna get a ticket.

sidenote: we were parked in a no stopping zone so dont call the police dicks they were just doing their job.

All the Asian people cleared out but we just went back to the park and about 20 minutes later half of them pulled up again :P

No, Trust Scan doesn't automatically update, I just got here and logged on. Meaning it should update soon (Omni was talking about that in some deal dispute) it's been overloaded or something so it now has a delay when trying to update. Check later today and it should change. Thanks also, I'm in San Jose, about to head to Monetary Bay soon on my family's beach house. There's some nice Pokemon out here, but barely any Pokestops and gyms.

Evanescence - July 12, 2016, 2:08 pm

The system I use for leveling/evolving is this:

- 1) If the Pokemon has an evolution after it's current form I get rid of all of the copies I have of it except for the highest CP one and I max out the CP on that one before evolving it.
- 2) If the Pokemon doesn't have an evolution after it's current form I choose the one with the best moves and get rid of all of the other ones, then I max out the CP on the one with the best moves.

I got no time to check 81 pages but does anyone know if you could still find poke stops even if you are outside "allowed" countrys?

For example I live in Sweden and use it on my android phone, can I still find pokestops?

When you find a pokemon and catch it you can transfer it for candy, but can you transfer it when you already have it to recive candy?

Yes you can find pokestops outside allowed countries.

I am in Canada and the game has not been officially released yet.

Yet, a lot of people are playing it, all the gyms have CP 500 pokemons in them and there are pokestops everywhere.

When I catch a pokemon I can choose to transfer it for candy, right?

If the pokemon I catch have more CP then my other can I choose to save it and transfer another pokemon?

I want to know if I can transfer a pokemon after you catch it.

If I understand your question, you are asking if you can transfer lower CP pokemons for candy and keep your higher CP ones.

If that is the case, then yes, you can do that.

I heard on the radio two dudes fell over a cliff while playing it. People really need to check their surrounds! I also saw videos of people flying drones while playing it to cheat- that's ridiculous.

I live in a small town with about 700 people living here, it was like 5 minutes away from my apartment not close to any cemetery or anything like that.

Was at 3:24 PM, I highly doubt they would add something like that, also caught multiple ghostly's in the middle of the day at random locations.

There are PokeStops around your map, those are shown Blue. Now you can get a Lure Module, those are gained when you level up or you can buy them from the shop.

If you add a Lure Module to a PokeStop, you're basically luring PokeMons to get there, so you don't need to walk around pretty much but sit there and wait for them to appear on your map.

As long as they maintain content updates and keep people interested, I would hope they keep people in for a few years. Additionally, I'm wary of any skill ceiling that might occur when some gyms become impossible to take over or some Pokemon become so impossible to capture that it's not worth the time. Here's hoping it will be open for everyone for a while.

Depends on how much resources they decide to spend on it (a lot I hope) since the game is going to desperately need content soon, which we will get mid August where they said they would release gen 2 into the game and the rest will come in the future.

Thing with video games to is that they really don't ever die out, this game is a casuals dream and is going to last them a long time so I think it will be relevant for many, many years if they play their cards right.

Probably a while, alot of the hardcore people will keep playing. I'd imagine a portion of people "just trying it out" will stop after a few weeks.

Hopefully they will keep adding new generations of pokemon on a regular basis, id love to see trainer battles to.

New generations are inevitable. I don't know how I would feel about leaderboards that even more tension and competitiveness to the game.

You get them from pokestops and you put the incubator to hatch them when you walk and a pokemon hatches from them.

They'll have to release them eventually or people might get bored once they end up catching all of the originals, at least I probably would. The most enjoyable part for me is completing the pokedex.

You need to put your egg into an incubator (everyone starts with one, you get more as you level up) and just walk around. You can cheat the GPS if you really don't want to do all that walking. Once you walk the distance, you'll get a cute new Pokémon.

Tap egg

Tap incubator

Profit.

Now just keep walking around until you can hatch the egg.

True, he probably wants to get the section active, it's a good way not gonna lie.

ArmadyI - July 15, 2016, 7:17 pm

I'm currently level 16, nearly 17.

Should I evolve all of my pidgey's, paras, and rattatas for exp? I have around 440 pidgey candies, 350 rattatas candies, and 200 paras candies.

Would this put me at a huge disadvantage? Since it is harder to catch pokemon if the player's level is high. There isn't really alot of stops around my city, so it would be hard to obtain pokeballs. However if I burn all of my candies, I'll probably reach level 19-20. After hitting level 20, I could unlock ultra balls, which would allow for easier catches.

Also if I catch all the way to level 20, I could obtain more dust..

Idk, seems as soon as I hit level 100 I started catching all the high and good pokemons without effort so a couple more levels for you and you might be catching the real good ones.

Level 100?

I'm looking for a serious answer not someone posting LQ crap just for the poke ball gift..

I've seen people catch it in the wild. You have a better chance of catching water pokemone when you're near a body of water. From what I know it's the pidgy and hatching egg method that's the best for lucky egg.

Incense work anywhere but they are more effective when you are moving. When not moving, you can expect a a Pokemon every five minutes.

1 pokemon per minute every 200m you walk around. There was a thread that mentioned this but I'm too lazy to dig it up.

Like everyone has said, this game has literally changed my life. I get out more, I've made a ton of cool friends, I actually wake up at a godly hour, I'm walking instead of staring at a computer screen.

Usually I'm 200% okay with people hacking games and such, but not this one.

Crazy at the amount of hype for this game.

Game is pretty fun and everyone should try it out, level 13 now =D

Think so. Forest, water - different areas for different pokemons.

But you don't actually have to swim in the water, people are finding 'em near the beach.

I just started the other day but already ill be disappointed if hackers do get onto it somehow.

They always ruin every other game, this has actually got people doing exercise tho so GG ;)

I've seen animal shelters asking pokemon go players to take dogs from their shelters out with them

Evolving an account way upto like Level 25, restocking at a fuck ton of Pokestops, catching rare Pokemon and evolving it. All off GPS spoofing makes an easy $50 for the person who's doing it. Might buy one myself tbh

On aug 1st all you're going to see on those websites is just red all over. Unless Niantic/Nintendo bumps up the protection on the network.

Evanescence - July 19, 2016, 4:15 pm

This site is better for monitoring the server status because it refreshed automatically every 60 seconds and you can set it to notify you through chrome to tell you when they come back online. It's been going back and forth from Offline to Unstable all day. Haven't seen it say Online even once today. ?

The chrome extension is useful as I get a notification on my phone saying when Pokemon Go is back online and functioning, I'd recommend getting it as well. With the supposed $5 million a day Niantic is making from the game, hopefully servers upgrades aren't too far behind as well. We'll see in weeks to come.

They're a Google subsidiary, so it'll probably be about another two weeks before the servers are fully set.

Rarity of different Pokemon mostly depends on where you live. Like around my area Abra is pretty rare, but around my cousin's area he can find Abra relatively easily. ?

No but there is a trick

If you want Vaporeon you name the Eevee Rainer

If you want Jolteon you name the Eevee Sparky

If you want Flareon you name the Eevee Pyro

So I guess you get to chose.

Headed to our place in the UP and having a meetup there the first day. Grabbing our two boats and then heading out from there the day after for the last half of the drive.

Pokemon related: So 1/2 my friends are Mystic and the other 1/2 including myself are Valor. We've made a group decision that once team changes are available we're all going to Instinct (Yellow. Not sure if it's actually called Instinct) because Zapdos is a superior beast and then we all get to waste money changing rather than 1/2 the people. Valor and Mystic dominate the area and it will make life easier taking gyms.

How do you earn/get eggs.

Are they purchase only, or can you win them or find them?

Thanks man, really appreciate that.

It seems I've got everything working except for the map itself. I load up the setlocation batch file, and that runs smoothly and identifies different pokemon that are around the location and all, so I know that's working. However, when in the browser, the map does not load. Well, it loads for a SPLIT second and then displays "Oops! Something went wrong." Any idea what's up? When I run setmap.bat, I get an error message "Get /data.json HTTP/1.1 200-"

Any idea?

That's not an error message, but are you keeping both batch scripts open? You have to have them both running for the map to work.

It's not? Oh. That's awkward. I understand now that it's just continually updating with the new data from that file.

But yes, I am keeping both files open. It's strange that the map appears for a split second before giving me the "Oops!" message.

EDIT; Looking back over the steps, it seems there are different types of Google Map APIs? Which should I select? I've tried three different ones with no change.

I hatched a 10k egg and I got hella hyped soon as I realized it was a Chansey. I then looked at the cp saw that it was only 290. I went to power him up for 1.5k stardust his cp only went up by 9. Wtf is that about?

Tbh I only got a 10KM egg once since I started :/
I need Snorlax mane
I know right? it feels really bad since my level 14 friend got like 6 of the 10k eggs already (He does a lot of walking tho, lol)

630 - July 22, 2016, 4:00 pm

I get 10k eggs regularly just never hatch them since it's such a commitment. I have one 10k egg in an incubator right now. Plan on having it hatched by tonight.

Lucky you. In my whole 2 weeks of playing I've only been able to get 1 10km egg and a bunch of 5km eggs. I guess I should be happy that I'm getting very few 2km ones.

630 - July 22, 2016, 6:28 pm

Sad night. Nobody is down to Pokemon Go with me. People are either busy or not in the area. Tempted to just head out there but I am tired as shit and need some motivation.

$uicide - July 22, 2016, 6:31 pm

I just finished walking the 5 km of what I had left to hatch an egg and I just hatched a Gastly. CP 102. Looks like a pretty sick Pokemon.

Dammit downloaded NOX and now I need to verify it with my phone number because they suspected my account as "Suspicious activity"
But I don't have a phone number so rip me.

Anyone can help me out with a phone number so I can verify it haha?

Damn. This section is lit lmao. I haven't really played too much Pokemon go as I feel like it would potentially be a waste of time as I believe it will die down, but who knows

CheGuevara? - July 22, 2016, 10:30 pm

I've found a Mr. Mimic, CP 703~, not that good but I really like the guy and I heard he is pretty rare?

Kinguin - July 23, 2016, 12:53 am

Well, I'm running this bot, but I can't catch any of the pokemons, however I still get 50xp all the time, not from the pokemons, but the bot itself.

Am I soft banned?

Or just bad luck?

I still get xp, but absolutely all of them gets away.

Went to the usual spot tonight. Caught an insane amount of water Pokemon and did a bunch of higher evolutions. Got a Poliwrath, Persian, Victoriebel, Golduck, and a few more. Definitely a solid night. Grinded out 75k xp.

I just got back home from another pretty fun Pokemon hunt. I saw two Venusaur, but was only about to catch one of them. I also caught a Tentacool earlier today.

I'm boosting off this one squirtle that spawns every 30 minutes outside across the street ;p

There was ~500+ people where I was at last night. There was a Bulbasaur that spawned across the field where we were at and ~300 people started running towards it. Was nutty. Finding starters by me is just so rare.

Is it possible to find your own starter again? I presume so, if that's the case does anyone know where I can catch some Charmanders?

God damn what a frenzy this game has caused. Even my mother who can't even turn a computer on properly heard about it the other day and asked me if I play. I can only imagine the situation in crowded cities.

Went over to a family friend's house last night for dinner. We all were playing and found out their mom is playing as well. Never would have expected a 50 year old lady getting into the game but I know a ton of adults playing now.
