So this is kind of a mentoring service? Or am I fully retarded?

I do have a lot of time and I also know the basics of selling things (online). But I currently do not have much money. So I don't think I'm the right person for you ;(

If I am, message me! :-)

Hi,

Yes this is mentoring service but will have limited spots available.

Money wise you really do need an investment of around $80 upwards however you will make this back pretty fast.

Thanks

I have been running a very succesful online shop for a year now, besides some other E-Commerce and online marketing related stuff which I do much longer.

Would be interesting to hear what product you are talking about, even though I'm currently setting up an online store already. Maybe we can also share knowledge and experience ?
