Thread: Poke Ball Award

Omniscient - July 15, 2016, 2:16 pm

The Poke Ball award is now one of the lucky awards you can win when posting on HF. However only the Poke Ball is earned by actually posting in the Pokemon Go forum.

<https://hackforums.net/forumdisplay.php?fid=358>

Temporarily for testing I have increased dramatically the chances of winning the award. You are still required to have 100 characters in the post. I'll allow 5 awards won before I lower and publish the chances. I will most likely keep the chance high though to encourage sectional activity.

This is being tested so don't bug out if you see an error on the site. Wait 30 seconds and see if it goes away before contacting me or freaking out. Sometimes while doing live coding work I may have a simple typo.

Enjoy and thanks. Now go catch'em.

EDIT: The first 5 awards were won. Now it's set to be a 250-1 chance of winning the award. That basically means every 250 or so posts in the section is the average the award will be won. So it's not that hard if you're active. I may even make it harder though. We'll see how it goes.

Have fun!

Good question. Right now it's set that you can get either depending on my chance function. That's the only section you can get the Poke Ball award but you can also get the Clover awards. It's a much higher chance that you'll win the Poke Ball though.

Sorry I've got another question. A lot of people seem to believe that this award is being granted to every 250th 'HQ' poster in the Pokemon Go section. In other words, they think that when the next award is given out is dependent on when the last one was given out.

I have been telling these people that this is not the case, but simply every time you make a 100+ character post you have a 1/250 chance of getting the award regardless of when the last one was given out. I am correct when I say this... right? And that is the same for the clovers as well?

It's been over 6 hours since the last award was granted and there's been way over 250, hell probably over 500 posts. Is something wrong? Appears the plugin shat itself or the difficulty was raised way higher :(

That's basically ripping off the whole clover thing and putting it in a Pokemon theme.

Replaced the clover with the ball. That's why no one won the clover awards since I did this and why a couple members got the poke ball twice and why some got the poke ball award outside of the Pokemon Go forum.

Very simple typo caused all that.

They're not counted as per the script which was released on HF for tamper monkey, which counts your char number as you post.

I believe, smilies, tags and spaces are not counted. I could be wrong though.

Mutes - July 21, 2016, 5:19 am

So read the lucky clover thread, and it seems like spaces are included.

Sick - July 21, 2016, 5:28 am

I actually won 1 the very first day i was like OMFG i had only made 3 posts and won ..

Next day it was gone i was like WTF ..

So i sent Omni a pm and he replied yes you won 1 but i took it away because your post was BS

So theres a little tip for you don't shit post and you might have a chance ..

So can't see me getting another shot at 1 but hey ho you never know fingers crossed eh (Would still love 1)

Yha i'd wish ill get it aswell, it the only award that i relate to to be honest, i dont have much money to donate for all the money awards and others are super hard to get and need constant activity on all forums and its like WHAA

Pimp. - July 21, 2016, 11:55 pm

Well, I started playing this game like a normal human being.. Being addicted, actually going outside, sharing stupid pokemon go memes on facebook. Howeverrr, I come on this website and see yall lazy fucks botting. So, in tribute to this, we're gonna see how long iLoveOmniscient survives. My prayers go out to you omni clone.

Are the chances still 250-1? I've made over 700 posts in the section, more than 3/4 of them are 100+ chars and haven't gotten an award

Unlucky as hell, I've seen people in there with not nearly as many posts and they have the award, I feel you man.

Yeah. Constantly checking this thread to see if Omni updated, but never saw any, so figured I would ask

Steve - July 31, 2016, 6:27 pm

Holy shit 948 posts and no award. They way the system is set up that is definitely possible, but still highly unlikely. Maybe Omni adjusted it without telling anyone.

Remember also that the OP in threads you make and posts under 100 characters don't count.

Yeah I was assuming that most of them were. Even with that many you are very unlucky for not getting it. That's just the nature of randomness, unfortunately :/

Gary - July 31, 2016, 7:07 pm

Didn't Omni say the more awards that were handed out the harder it gets?

Steve - July 31, 2016, 7:09 pm

I'm not sure, I think he said he was considering doing something like that, but I'd have to find it. As far as we know the chances are still 1/250 until he announces otherwise.

This is his last update regarding poke ball award

(Jul 15, 2016 02:16 PM)Omniscient Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) EDIT: The first 5 awards were won. Now it's set to be a 250-1 chance of winning the award. That basically means every 250 or so posts in the section is the average the award will be won. So it's not that hard if you're active. I may even make it harder though. We'll see how it goes.

Have fun!

Steve - July 31, 2016, 7:11 pm

Thanks Meow, I just went back to the OP and was going to quote this but you beat me to it. Looks like he said he might eventually make it harder but he has never announced that he actually has done this.

Omniscient - July 31, 2016, 11:44 pm

Nothing has changed. Five awards were won today for example. You can make 5000 posts in the section and not get the award or you can make 5 and get it. That's called CHANCE.

Five were won today? Damn. The only day I wasn't active in the section lol. Lately I've been seeing 1-2 awards a day

Power8 - July 31, 2016, 11:46 pm

Is exactly 100 characters or can there be more than 100 characters in the post? I never understood that, Sorry if it's obvious but I don't really know.

There you go, as I said earlier that's the nature of randomness. Just because it's a 1/250 chance does not mean you are guaranteed the award even if you make 1000 posts.

100 characters is a minimum, you can make your post 10,000 characters and you are still eligible for Poke Ball award.

Yeah, its just hard to get due to the lack of activity in the section.

Should have seen it when it first was introduced.

I remember when this award came out.

The Pokemon GO section had way more activity than the lounge. Imfao! xD

We should get the Pokemon GO section back up. Activity wise.

Omniscient - September 16, 2016, 12:17 pm

I think there aren't enough posts daily in the section anymore and no one is getting the award. Probably most of the people who do post in the section already have the award too.
