So I have finally found where the pokemongo section is! Finally! I can help everyone.

So here I will share some tips and tricks I have found playing the game with little experience at the start.

How to get pikachu At the start - At the start when you pick your first pokemon if you move away from the pokemon after a few respawns you will see a pikachu! once it appears you can catch pikachu and Have the bragging rights if you wish.

How to level up Fast - You wont be able to do this at the start of pokemon go but after a bit You can gain a lot of xp for evolving pokemon for the first time, You get 1k xp for the first time you evolve that pokemon for the first time and the second time, you can get 500xp for doing again and you can repeat this method over and over to level up really fast.

Background playing - When turn your phone upside down you will face a black screen that cant be tapped nothing if you put that in your pocket you will have pokemon go in the background counting your steps for eggs more accurately making eggs hatch faster.

I will be doing more tips and tricks soon But would like to publish this now

Tried it. Didn't work. I see a few people too saying it doesn't work. Do you have a video whatsoever to prove those claims? I want a pika so badly

Yeah this isnt CSGO haha

But If you run away 4 times pikachu appears I have seen videos on youtube that are RAW and they look and also show you it all.

I heard people hatch eggs by putting their phone on the ceiling fan, tying it up there, and putting it on full blast. Is this true and does it work?

I can confirm this, I was walking with a friend of me, he tried the game for the first time, tried this and got a pikachu, I'm so annoyed that I didn't knew this when I started "playing" this game. But It's only a starter pokemon anyway, so It's not that bad.

The last tip is pretty cool, I didn't realise that one.

I have been walking around with the phone in my hand the whole time.

Background Playing requires the power saver mode to be on. This uses the same thing your phone uses to turn off your screen when you're taking a phone call.
