Thread: [\[Glitch/Tip\] How to USUALLY Catch a Pokemon on your First Throw](#)

skelly76 - July 15, 2016, 4:50 pm

This video has NOT blown up yet and for most of you who haven't seen it here you go. This is not a perfect glitch because there is always a chance the Pokemon will break out of course but it's a neat trick. In my experience Pokemon over 400CP tend to get caught by this first try method far less.

[Video: <https://youtu.be/PCqQ3QQUBDM>]

Also after you get the method down, what I do is if the first time doesn't work I run away from the Pokemon then challenge it again so I get another opportunity for this. I do it a max of 3 times.

I already had seen this video, but why not just do the spin trick to get extra xp, then throw to the right.

It always seems to work for me, or for my phone atleast.

Is this iPhone only or something? Doesn't work for me... at least my app kinda crashed.

BTCEXchangez - July 15, 2016, 4:53 pm

Wouldn't recommend this when you are a higher level or catching a high CP Pokemon simply because it will break out and you need a lot of Pokeballs at that time.

Doesn't seem to work for me on Android, maybe its just me. I'm using it on a rooted phone though since Pokemon Go isn't available in my country, Unfortunately Oh well :(

At 1 minute i could not stop cracking up.

It worked and i caught a weedle just now.

What it does is always give you either a "Nice", "Great", or above average first throw. So that basically increases your chance of catching it and if it doesn't hurt to get a free good throw in.

Yeah it is harder but I mean I've still caught an 800CP Pokemon with this. Doesn't hurt to get a little help on your first throw.

I don't think this works on android. Just tried it countless times lol. Maybe I'm doing something wrong, but I have no clue actually.

Krule - July 15, 2016, 5:49 pm

But then once you get up in the levels, you don't hit them after a certain amount of throws, they run away and your like fuck this

Pillows - July 15, 2016, 5:50 pm

If this works in the higher levels then it'll be a godsend. No longer to worry about pokemon running away. Rarely.

It's just a way to get an easy "Great" or "Nice" throw. Nothing too OP.

I'm quite new to this game but I find that I miss the poke ball quite often. Any way ti improve without glitching? I try throwing it less 'hard' but it still goes far.

topdog77 - July 15, 2016, 5:52 pm

Can anyone confirm this works :O? I tried it and failed but mabey I just suck :p(which is completely possible).

Yassuo - July 15, 2016, 5:53 pm

Thanks for this man gonna try it out :)

Wasted over 20 Pokeballs on catching a damn 120CP Squirtle, lol. Will try to catch some more Pokemon later when I have time.

?erenity - July 16, 2016, 7:35 pm

When you get to the higher levels though, it doesn't auto select great balls.
Not really worth it in my opinion.
