Thread: Pokemon Go: Tiny information and resource hub!

In?sane? - July 16, 2016, 5:43 am

Forewords

So since there is a lot of important information missing in the SF I decided to compile a small thread with some very good resources I found.

If you see anything missing here or just have something you want added just post it in the thread and I will add and credit you for the find.

Guides

Using Ingress to find Pokémon spawns/rares

How to properly beat gyms \(with video in the comments\)

How to choose what Eevee evolution you will get.

How to properly track Pokémons

How to scan for Pokémon anywhere in the world \(With timer and exact location\) by [\[Mr. Robot\]](#)

Reducing Battery Consumption by [\[Anime Izayoi\]](#)

How to throw a Curveball

SinaThrow

How to get Pikachu as a starter

A guide to hidden stats

How to play Pokémon Go on PC [\[Vince\]](#)

Information

Max CP of all Pokemons

Type counter chart \(useful when taking gyms\)

Why your player level is king

Rarity Chart

Huge thread with random information and tips

Another thread with good tips

Using fodder Pokémon to tank gyms for you

Everything you can get from all the eggs

Getting around the 25% infinite loading error

Calculate what CP your evolved Pokémon will get \(might be ruined by fake numbers\)

PokemonGo Compilation Thread by [\[Aura\]](#).

You can use HTML in your Pokémon names

Weight and Height explained

CP Tier List

FAQ

Resources

Track any Pokemon via map location and timer until despawn
Another real time live map created by a HF member. [King]
Pokémon Maps [Squa]
Server Status
HF's Pokémon Go Discord server
Rarest Pokémon
Pidgley, Weedle and Caterpie Calculator [RYAN REYNOLDS ?]

Mandatory Tooltips

Incense spawns 1 pokémon every 5 min while standing still and every 1 min/200 meters while moving.

Grind every low level Pokémon to then mass evolve everything you can while using a Lucky Egg. When your holding your Pokéball you cann see the color of the ring. Green, yellow and red which indicates it's difficulty to catch.

Click X after visiting a Pokémon stop instead of tapping all the items to get them all right away. You have to apply Razzberry after every ball thrown.

Access your submenus faster by swiping from the Pokéball. Swiping the Pokéball left opens your caught Pokémon, swiping right opens your items, short swiping up opens the shop, long swiping up opens the Pokédex.

There's been a lot of threads lol. Compilations, guides, tips & tricks. This section is definitely active asf.

Yeah it's really good, only place I could find him at was he's blog and facebook so check those out.

Pung0d - July 16, 2016, 5:52 am

There has been hella compilation threads with tons of info, honestly this one looks polished af and we should get atleast one sticked because the one sticked rn is lame.

Mr.Peanut - July 16, 2016, 5:54 am

Good post for those who have played the game but aren't 100% sure on the basics! Cheers to all the new members who are soon to be hooked.

Yes, but Facebook is also notorious for compressing images and converting them into pixelated messes. It's difficult to upload a good image there when it just becomes so blocky. :(

?Saadi - July 16, 2016, 5:56 am

Pretty neat thread, this will surely help a lot of people including me, who don't understand Pokemon Go properly.

The font of the text is slightly hard to read to be honest.

A NEW ERA... - July 16, 2016, 5:56 am

Good thread, would help out a noob if they got referred to this thread and they just started pokemon.
Love seeing hq ass threads like this.

Wouldn't be to bad, I have nothing against the current stickied thread but it should be branded as a beginner guide instead.

You could also add sites such as these three because they are really helpful for finding specific Pokemon.

But I've never heard of the Sena Throw, can someone explain that to me?

You basically throw a ball the second the Pokémon zooms out or what?

Well you basically just have your AR turned off and then you just spam flick the ball because the Pokémon is really close to you in the start of the encounter which means the ball will hit 100% unless it does a stupid dodge animation in the start.

Thanks for all the webpages and guide links in your thread. My hometown is a little bit scarce on Pokémon spawns and gyms/pokéstops. So if I find a better pokémon I don't have yet I can find him guaranteed with the compass trick.

That really sucks, you should still be able to find hotspots etc using the Ingress method but you will probably end up struggling over Pokéballs pretty soon.

Also that Mr robots 'guide' is comes from this thread:

Who made the animations by the way? Was that something you worked on personally, or did you find them off the internet, or did you hire someone to make them? They are low key so cool, im super impressed with them. If you found them somewhere, a bit less cool, but still kind of amazing.

Are you talking about the banner? I can't draw or anything artsy like that so I just resized three pictures from the talented artist that made this and put them together.

Source for them are on page one if you are interested.

Loads of juicy stuff has been coming out the past few days, updated the thread again.

Mutes - July 21, 2016, 5:30 am

This seems cool. I like the fact that you mentioned it's live. That's useful. I'd find more of these to be better though if they could somehow be used on mobile. I mean that's where Pokemon GO is played, so it would be more helpful if there was an app or browser version of this.

I don't have BTC to buy it anyways. Cool though.

Try and check for hotspots in your area using the Ingress method and then just scan around those areas every now and then with one of the live maps, finding garbage pokemons is standard for everyone but every now and then something rare pops up no matter where you live.
