Vince - July 16, 2016, 9:22 am

I have not seen this posted seeming as this section is getting hella spammed right now. IF you find it, please link me and ill trash this!

THIS WORKS REGARDLESS OF WHAT YOUR MOBILE PHONE IS, AS EVERYTHING IS SAVED ONLINE AND NOT TO YOUR DEVICE! DO NOT PLAY POKEMON GO ON THE PC AND YOUR PHONE AT THE SAME TIME! IT SUBSTANTIALLY RAISES YOUR RISK FOR PERMA BAN. ONLY DO ONE AT A TIME.

Also, Nox has access to the LEGIT Playstore so you can directly download PokemonGo updates straight from Google once this is set up, no need to download the game's apk every time.

The most common practice right now is to use Bluestacks, root it, use FakeGPS (the app) through Lucky Patcher. This is QUITE the pain in the ass, and many people are reporting issues with Bluestacks closing the game, freezing, logging them out of their Google Accounts.

The Nox App Player (basically the EXACT same thing as Bluestacks except on steroids) has a built in GPS spoofer that lets you walk with the W/A/S/D keys and there's no google account issues.

Here's how to do it:

Download and install Nox App Player: Pokemon GO for PC version from this link (this will already have Pokemon Go preinstalled) :

http://res05.bignox.com/g2/M00/00/A7/CjM_R1eHwjeAL9w7FYbvEEMRAcQ898.exe?filename=nox_setup_v3.7.0.0_full_En_pokemon.exe

Run through the installation. MAKE SURE YOUR GRAPHICS DRIVERS ARE UP TO DATE, AND YOUR OPEN GL LEVEL IS MORE THAN 2.0!

Once Nox is installed, open the program, open Pokemon Go, log in and go. BE SURE TO MAKE SURE YOU TURN ROOT ACCESS ON IN NOX BY CLICKING THE GEAR IN THE UPPER RIGHT OF NOX NEXT TO THE __:

Spoiler (Click to View)

Follow this video EXACTLY to get auto walking scripts to work:

[Video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=l69M9Xxf9dY>]

You can use FakeGPS if you don't like Nox's GPS spoofer (which is quite crude). Just follow the following directions:

YOU WILL NEED TO HAVE DONE ALL OF THE INSTRUCTIONS FROM THE VIDEO ABOVE FOR THIS APPLICATION TO WORK IN NOX! DO NOT SKIP THAT VIDEO!

Download the FakeGPS APK:

http://www.mediafire.com/download/5i7cvpvyn1x1i8d/Fake_GPS_Location_Spoofers_v4.0_%28Paid_Cracked%29.apk

4th application down A box will pop up with 3 icons and some file paths, just click the blue box (only one will be colored in light blue)

Press the check box for the app

Click the / at the top of the screen

Go to System > app

Then press this icon:

That will open this:

Click move selection here.

Press on the app, then click install.

Once it's installed, press done.

LONG PRESS (click) on the app to bring this box back up:

Click Properties

Make sure your settings match mine: Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Go back to the home screen

Open xPosed Installer

Click Modules

Click Mock Mock Locations

Add in the FakeGPS app to give it super user access.

Open FakeGPS

Open the settings:

(three verticle ...'s)

If done correctly this box will be checkable, CHECK IT:

Spoiler (Click to View)

You're ready to use FakeGPS to play Pokemon Go.

Once you've done this, you're good to open the FakeGPS App first, set your desired location, THEN open Pokemon Go and play. NOTE: Nox's WASD movement will NOT work while FakeGPS is active! It's one or the other! I use FakeGPS to quickly hit Pokestops, then close it out, restart Nox, go back into Pokemon Go and use Nox's GPS to get me to a location to use WSAD to hunt for pokemon.

If you don't care about using WSAD for movement and want to just use FakeGPS, I still highly recommend you do it in Nox. It's much more stable, no errors, better performance, more options.

I'll happily answer any questions, and show any settings.

NOTE: If you warp more than 5 miles away from where the game last thinks' you were you WILL be soft banned. Soft ban is that no pokestops work and pokemon are not catchable as they instantly run. These's bans can last anywhere from 5 minuets to 12 hours.

YES YOU CAN go from say New York City to Sydney Australia to hit pokestops and catch pokemon. You just need to wait out your soft ban.

Throwing pokeballs on the PC is QUITE glitchy. You'll miss alot. I highly recommend stocking up before you go hunting, and practice on weak ass pokemnon. You don't want to run into something rare and fuck up.

There are macro's and scripts to auto farm pokestops, and make it so pokeballs never miss. As soon as I find them I'll post them.

YayHar - July 16, 2016, 9:23 am

Wouldn't this still go by GPS spoofing since your computer normally doesn't have a GPS?

That would mean you would still get banned in the long run and this isn't worth it unless they implement trading then you could just use a proxy account to transfer to yours.

Pretty much so, seeming as you need to use FakeGPS. Regardless, still useful for those lazy ones, or disabled people who want to play. Just sharing info that I am sure others already know though.

Roger Waters - July 16, 2016, 9:25 am

I saw this on Reddit the other day. Too much work for someone who's lazy like me. It's a lot easier to put it on your phone and go for a little walk.

From what I was reading, Bluestacks is very buggy and force closes the game a lot, basically making it unplayable for some.

Great tutorial my man, probably just going to stick to playing on my phone but I guess some people would find this as a good alternative.

Quite a bit of work so I probably won't use it, but very well detailed so credit where due on that. I'm sure many others here will find it useful.

Examine - July 16, 2016, 9:32 am

So this is basically like GPS Spoofing for iPhone? Seems interesting but I can't imagine it being anywhere near as enjoyable if you're just sitting in one spot, but hey some people would definitely prefer to be able to play from the comfort of their home.

I prefer it on my phone as well. That being said I could see this as being useful to catch pokes otherwise not available in your area.

Bluestacks is basically an Android emulator, so you're able to root and run apps like a GPS spoofer for these kinds of apps.

Vince - July 16, 2016, 9:44 am

It really boils down to if you are lazy enough to not want to walk and look for the pokemon and if you are able enough to sit through the tutorial and put it together.

Hello

Thank you for this post but after I have installed Nox, I lunch it and it don't want to work...

I keep getting errors and it closed

files that helps to describes the errors:

\AppData\Local\Temp\WER5893.tmp.WERInternalMetadata.xml

\AppData\Local\Temp\WER5FA5.tmp.appcompat.txt

\AppData\Local\Temp\WER6D0E.tmp.hdmp

The 2d is a .txt files that I saved let me know if I should add it please

Anyone have this problems or knows how to fix it please ?
I can't play pokémon go on my phone and wanted to try it :(

Thanks a lot for your help

Might make a new account just to get this, that way i can start in New York instead of the soft ban

Krule - July 16, 2016, 3:50 pm

I've been looking around and see this possible with people using an emulator. It'd be neat if they released it on the app store for MacOSX or windows 10. but it probably wouldnt work as good!

So, I created a new account to try this out. As moving around is really glitchy, like really. The character goes back and forth and what not.

I can't really decide where I want to go. Just a tiny bit...

Anyways, my question is, if I wish to play Pokemon GO (PC) on my main account, I would want to spawn in MY country and city.

How would I do that?

On this new account, I got spawned in Australia.

Can I somehow make sure that I would spawn in my country and city before I login to my main?

I want to play PC on my main.

Nice one! Thank you Sleek. ?

Thank you so much for the HQ tutorial. Might set up two accounts a legit one on my phone and a PC one.

Vince - July 17, 2016, 5:33 pm

I am looking at adding macros for you guys to the OP so that it makes it easier for you all. Remember, try not to use your main account.

Yo I got this Nox client with WASD keys to move around, I tried your method too and tbh Nox is much better. Legit moving n stuff, maybe you could make a tutorial on that?

You don't have to ofc :p

Yo how does it look for you on Nox? It works hella buggy on my laptop, mostly because of the fact it shows a black hole on the dynamic stuff (pokemons, pokestops, gyms, etc), and honestly runs slow as fuck.

I would be interested with the marcos if you implemented them within the OP, thank you.

What's the point in using this if you can't use your main account?

I'm using this on my main account. If something bad happens so be it.

It's a fun journey and it's not like I will play this forever. I'm doing things because the joy it brings me, if it no longer brings joy it is not worth it.

But people are probably doing this on other accounts and waiting for the trade-system to arrive, then they will trade all good gear towards their mains.

Just my thought.

Mudhoney - July 17, 2016, 8:06 pm

Hey I followed all of the instructions and not sure whats going on but every time I throw a pokeball at a pokemon they just run away even tho i had a ratata cp 10 with great ball and razz candy and idea?

Is this program laggy at all? I'm using bluestacks currently and there emulator is so shitty but it's better than nothing.

MrARM - July 17, 2016, 8:15 pm

I tried the nox method as i just want to play the game and see what the better places to GO are, Right now i seem to find myself stuck deciding walking routes.

Not for me no, works like a charm. I'm loving it!

Krule - July 17, 2016, 8:38 pm

This looks cool, I might check it out just for fun to spoof a location like New York or Los Angeles or something like that.

Thanks for the share man!

Arptastic - July 17, 2016, 9:37 pm

Are there any other guides, this guide doesn't include any links and isn't very good imo

#Skyline - July 17, 2016, 9:38 pm

Using this on PC, and it's very laggy for me. I think I prefer using my phone, even tho the battery life ain't that great, but I will live I suppose.

Hello

I have added a google account on nox (play store) and when I try to start pokémon go, I choose my birthdate, I choose login with google.

But after this it blocks loading (and it says in red no gps signal found).

Anyone has this issue and know how to fix it please ??

My phone does not support the pokémon go app so I really would like to play a bit on pc...

Thanks a lot

It runs so good.. I can't describe it with words literally.

I got to lv 11 in like 3 hours..

It's so incredibly good and fast to play in Central park NYC :)

Everyone has the 'no gps signal found' error even if you set everything up perfectly.

But can you make a screenshot of your blocked error? I might be able to help you.

I think it might be an issue with my graphics card, did u modify anything related to that before using it?

I had many issues with Nox :

1) When I wanted to install it, the install blocked at 99%. After this I made the update from win 7 to windows 10 (because I had to do it since many days and had free time).

2) With windows 10 I have reinstalled and its ok, it goes to 100%, I active Root, I get the pokémon go APK and install.

Like I said I choose my birthdate, click on login with google and then :

Here is a screenshot :

Spoiler (Click to View)

So I click google :

and it stays like this all the time :

thanks for your help

Sleek. - July 18, 2016, 10:54 am

Kek just got soft banned, i cant catch any pokemons (they break out and run 100% of the time, even with masterballs) and i cant harvest pokestops.

Guess tping to USA and back wasnt the brightest idea xD

SkullTraill - July 18, 2016, 11:14 am

Holy shit this is actually legit. Never wanted to play pokemon go because I don't really want to waste time with that shit. Now I can just leave my PC on with a walking script and get dank walkz. What would be cool is instantly traveling to places that have them danke pokemanz.

How are people getting banned for this though? Unless you TP wild distances, I don't see how/why you would get banned?

STYLING - July 18, 2016, 11:23 am

Will this induce a ban? It's technically GPS-Spoofing since your PC dosen't have a GPS or is stationary... I would like to know the risks.

If you want you can add the video tut I made today, some people apparently still find it hard to understand how it's done. Nice tut mate.

Roxus™ - July 18, 2016, 11:44 am

Vince, include in your Tut that if its super laggy,(Especially for people on Laptops with built in GPU) to change it from OpenGL to Direct X to increase performance. Can also allot more RAM in the settings to speed things up as well. Default ram is 1gb.

Go into settings and change location to High accuracy and try again.

Maybe try re-installing it?
I wouldn't see why it wouldn't work.
Maybe you have to enabled the Root option.

Uninstall and then reinstall Nox with Admin Privileges. After it is installed, enable root under the Settings Tab. Should be good to go from there.

Not a problem. It seems like a bunch of people are having issues, including myself. I'm looking into it and will update the OP with any fixes I might find.

Essence - July 20, 2016, 1:58 am

Yep, like others are saying I am pretty sure you can get banned for doing this so do this at your own risk.
