Thread: Poke ball award

Confound - July 16, 2016, 1:59 pm

So I was looking at the lucky members who received the award and I noticed some interesting things.

- Some members tried really hard, and posted 130-300+ times to get the award
- Others posted 10-20 times, and were extremely lucky, or even less
- The MOST interesting thing I noticed, was one user in particular didn't even post a single time in the pokemon go section, yet still received the award.

I checked out his post activity, no posts. Then I looked at his recent posts, to see if it was a glitch, and I noticed the post that got him the award, which was at 1:51 pm EST, was in a completely different section.

Thoughts on this guys?

?Saadi - July 16, 2016, 2:00 pm

I got the award (latest) at about 35 HQ posts (100+ chars) in this section.

It's all about luck, in my opinion

Fatboy Slim - July 16, 2016, 2:01 pm

I think the guy may have posted on a thread that got junked afterwards or maybe he deleted his posts in the section just to fuck with you.

Deany - July 16, 2016, 2:02 pm

It doesn't matter how many times you post, it matters if it's over 100 characters. Anything below that doesn't make you eligible for it. So just make HQ posts and you'll have a good chance of getting it!

630 - July 16, 2016, 2:02 pm

I mean I don't really like these luck based awards but I am not going to complain that much since it's one I don't have to pay for. Crazy how much activity has been brought to this sub for it. I am just never lucky.

Probably some dupe who posted once and got the award before jungked, you don't have to be jealous op

Dem?n - July 16, 2016, 2:03 pm

I think he deleted the post knowing you were going to look at it and spawn a thread with people going "oh hory crap we can post elsewhere too?" because he wants to be one of the only people with it.

Yeah I was already wondering a couple of hours ago why there were so many posts in here, but seeing how Omni introduced this award, that explains a lot.

Confound - July 16, 2016, 2:03 pm

Haha imagine if thats all it was. He deleted it? Doubtful. The guy was extremely inactive. He's made only a few posts in the last few days, but hey, anything is possible. Ive got quite a large amount of posts in the section with no luck..

Yea this is actually a fair enough reason, but you're right OP we post our asses off and some people get it within 10-30 posts, pretty shitty, but we'll keep trying.

YayHar - July 16, 2016, 2:04 pm

I don't know, I've been posting for awhile and haven't gotten it. Who knows, I might never get it. Good luck to everybody who tries.

Greatest - July 16, 2016, 2:05 pm

I posted like 10 times and got it.. The awards only been out for a day and almost 30 people have it, doesn't seem too rare.

Fatboy Slim - July 16, 2016, 2:06 pm

It's pretty funny, the reason the award was introduced was to get a lot of activity. Now there is a lot of activity but 90% of the posts are actual shitposts saying nothing just to get a chance at the award!

Bill Wilkins - July 16, 2016, 2:06 pm

Complaining about it won't get you anywhere, that's my opinion.

Lone Survivor - July 16, 2016, 2:06 pm

Others have posted far more, in the 400s and still haven't gotten it. I'm wondering if there's a secret troll feature Omni added in if a specific word is used than they aren't real pokemon go players O_O. Some kind of heuristic behavioral rule or something :D

Yaniel - July 16, 2016, 2:08 pm

The guy might have deleted his post or the thread got junked, I can't really think of anything else. I doubt it would of glitched and gave him the award for posting in a different section.

I highly doubt it honestly, it's just a matter of chances. Say the chance is 1 in every 100 posts, regardless of the user already having it or not. Some people are just lucky and others just aren't. That's how it works.

Mr. Corleone - July 16, 2016, 2:16 pm

Yeah once every 250 posts someone will get an award xD

You just have to be the 250th one.

Register at how many posts someone gets an award, then after 249 posts, click 'Post reply' in a thread in this subforum and gg award.

Confound - July 16, 2016, 2:16 pm

Ive got quite a bit over 100 posts, and still no luck. I think it just takes time and time. I wonder if less people posting will make it easier, but then again who knows.

Elegant - July 16, 2016, 2:18 pm

The thread could have been junked if it was a shit thread but you're still awarded the award because it goes on your account automatically. I'm still trying to go for the award, will be posting in this section more actively.

Gary - July 16, 2016, 2:19 pm

Its sad to see most of you only came to this section for the award.

Fatboy Slim - July 16, 2016, 2:20 pm

To be honest right now I'm just wasting my time posting for the award when I could have gone out and caught myself some sick ass pokemons.

Yin Yang - July 16, 2016, 2:21 pm

Woah, that's really bizarre. I do hope I win it though. So many members have been just constantly spamming this section. I feel like a second award would make me want to complete my first row.

lkr. If I get this second award, I'll try to get second and third clover and then buy gift awards. Basically be the regular member with most awards ^_^

Confound - July 16, 2016, 2:27 pm

Yeah this would be my first non paid for award, which would be a really cool addition. I clearly plan on buying more awards, up to the master donor, but it takes time to have sufficient funds to afford it all. In the future I definitely will though.

Krule - July 16, 2016, 3:58 pm

Krule at least you got the green clover! Thats a pretty good one to have at this point. But anyways, it takes time i guess. I am starting to think it might be 11-10 awards per day? There was a significant pause from yesterday to today, and we haven't received any for a while since this afternoon as well.

Imao true but you can blame people for trying to get the award and atleast for now its keeping the sub forum somewhat active

Confound - July 16, 2016, 7:29 pm

Just checking back in with this. I wonder if its true that there is a 10-11 limit on this award per day. Certainly seems that way, since the last poke ball was given out @ 2:06 pm. So does this mean there is confirmation regarding daily limit of awards given out? I wonder :p

I think the only reason Omni did it was for SEO reasons to pump up the section and threads. The trade-off between the LQP (contained to this section only btw) was worth the SEO advantage.

Rugaru - July 16, 2016, 8:22 pm

Krule - July 16, 2016, 9:20 pm

Cured recently just won the award, so maybe it reset itself to give out 11 more awards. Or perhaps it's just the last one until morning

Confound - July 16, 2016, 9:51 pm

Omni cleared it up that there aren't limits to amounts of awards given per day. So I don't think its that. I think everyone just had really bad luck for a really long time. But that said, maybe its something else. Idk to be honest. Still rough for me as I haven't gotten anything at all.

I KNOW RIGHT?

I've probably had a shit load of posts in this sf and i haven't seen an award given in over 6 hours and I know its been well over 250 posts in that time. shits cray

Sotark - July 16, 2016, 9:54 pm

Do you actually need 100 characters for this award?

Krule - July 16, 2016, 9:55 pm

Yes, omni clarified that in his post its a 1/250 chance with a minimum of 100 characters just like the clover awards.

Confound - July 16, 2016, 10:10 pm

I wish it was like every 250 posts. Would be very different, but that said, the system is still great. I just hope it lasts for a bit, to give the people who are working hard towards getting the award a chance. Something tells me it won't be around for much longer, which could be pretty shitty :(

Egregious - July 16, 2016, 10:21 pm

Have you ever considered that he deleted the winning post? He could've came to this section wanting to post a bunch, hoping he'd be lucky to receive the award. Maybe he achieved the goal and deleted his post(s)?

Confound - July 16, 2016, 10:24 pm

Based off of omni's posts in one of his threads, the community was made aware that there was a brief error within his code, that allowed people to get the poke ball award, even if they were meant to obtain a clover award, instead. It has since been fixed though.

Wow, do any of you know if this is something that's only going to be temporary or is Omni going to continue keep this award around? I think it's cool that it's random. Wondering if he'll ever put it up to be able to pay for the award.

StevesTrolls - July 19, 2016, 2:59 am

Are you sure that guy that got the award on a post in a different thread didn't get it moved to another section?

• Kyle • - July 19, 2016, 3:02 am

Seems like Omni will lower the chances to receive an award after like 20 more people receiving this award. I doubt it will stay like this forever in this section.

Confound - July 19, 2016, 9:27 am

As of recent confirmations from Omni. The award's random chance has not been changed in the last 48 hours. Meaning it is still at 1/250. That said, it may change in the future. Also, in regards to StevesTrolls, Omni also confirmed that there was a brief time where the code was incorrect, where instead of users receiving clovers, they received the poke ball. It has since been fixed.

The Silenced - July 20, 2016, 5:59 am

Well when Omni notices that then the OP will just lose the award just like what happened to Vitani and Orgy. Except Vitani got his back again. Lucky.

Omni set up the award on the pokemon Go section so we can talk about experiences, goals, etc
The award is all about luck ?

It's just like the lucky clovers, you just have to post a reply with over 100 characters within this subforum and there's a small chance you'll get the award.

Dennis - July 20, 2016, 1:53 pm

I honestly don't see why anyone would care for the pokemon award. There are a lot better ones you could go for but whatever..

Roytoy - July 20, 2016, 3:09 pm

I wonder who is a regular member with the most awards? You'll eventually have to get l33t, ub3r, or 3pic. I have ub3r without l33t though (the rules were different back in the day and l33t wasn't required to get ub3r)

Confound - July 20, 2016, 3:44 pm

I never would have guessed this thread to have gotten this many responses. Made this post relatively soon after this forum was made. That said, I still have horrible luck. And I wasn't intending to make this thread for lq posting. Just to talk about it. We certainly can't deny the fact that people are here for the award. That is inevitable. SO for those of you saying to not try for the award, don't lie to yourself, cuz almost every post here is above 100 characters other than the one guy asking about what the award even was.

People just want more awards so they can get more space for themselves. For example people with more lines of awards get noticed more.

AsunaYuuki - July 20, 2016, 3:55 pm

Yeah I would assume the same thing in this scenario. Extremely lucky with one post on a junked thread. That would indeed make him one lucky man.

Steve - July 20, 2016, 3:57 pm

Despite how many posts I have in the Pokemon GO section, I actually got my Pokeball award with my very first post. You can look at when I received my award and when I made my first post if you want proof. I was one of the first 5 people to get it though, which means at the time the chances were "dramatically increased".

As for those who have a Pokeball award with 0 posts in the Pokemon GO section, there was a bug in Omni's code for a short while that awarded the Pokeball to users for posts that were supposed to give them a clover. Omni removed the Pokeball awards from these users, but may have missed some.

LilDurk - July 20, 2016, 3:58 pm

I've just been posting in this section because I enjoy Pokemon GO. Sure, a Pokemon award would be nice but i'm literally not active enough on the site these days to actually care lol

Confound - July 20, 2016, 7:46 pm

Everyone has their own method to their madness I'd say, and their reasoning for why they do what they do. Sure people want awards, but that doesn't necessarily mean everything they post for an award is considered LQ. That said, there are users in this sf that are posting LQ content, for the pure reason of getting the poke ball.

Mutes - July 21, 2016, 8:44 am

I got it in this section... I just kept posting. It was random. I don't have 250 posts in this section yet, so to the user(s) who said "don't you get it after making 250 posts" no you don't. It's random. You have 1/250 chance of getting it.

Keep going everyone. You can do it. Make your posts long and detailed.

Confound - July 21, 2016, 9:00 am

Yeah the poke ball can only be awarded in the Pokemon Go section, and the chances are 1/250. Not every 250 posts you make, an award will be given to you. Its also not that ever 250 posts made in the section, 1 will be given the award. Its that every post made, you have a 1/250 chance of winning, if the character count is over 100 characters. Not sure how people still don't know this :(

Yeah if you take a look at some of the awards given in the past for the poke ball, you can see that two in particular were given almost back to back with just around 3 or so minutes apart. I don't remember the exact number, but yes - its possible. Who knows maybe we'll get it eventually.

Pillows - July 21, 2016, 8:08 pm

I wonder if anyone else got it from this thread.

ArtMachine - July 22, 2016, 4:21 am

I have yet to play Pokemon Go but it seems like a good game overall though lol. I think as the award becomes harder to get each day, someday in the future, this award will be seen as a valuable award like the Liberty Reserve Head award.

Same here, I was looking at the "View New Posts" section, and though I landed in the Pokemon Go section

Heart - July 22, 2016, 4:25 am

The thread that guy posted in was probably junked. I don't think someone would delete their only post in the Pokemon Go section that got them the award in the first place.

Roytoy - July 22, 2016, 4:26 am

I think if it's a 1/300 chance it should have happened by now, yet again I still haven't made more than 100 posts in this subforum so.

Let's see.

I really don't think it is 1/300 . Seems a bit low in my opinion. More something along the lines of 1/1000.

That's what Omni stated m8 not me

So I'm not sure

But 1/300 would be pretty nice if you ask me

If it was accurate, that is, who knows though!

I post on the poke forums like once a day or so just in the hopes I get this damn pokeball like hackforums gods give me this damn award!

Indeed, I'm trying to take the same approach to gain the award, hopefully maybe one day.

playing it.

Lmao imagine in 1/2 years people are making fun of the pokemon award you fought so hard for, that would be a bummer.

Conscious - July 22, 2016, 4:38 am

Imagine how much the search engines loves hackforums for having a pokemon Go subforum. it probably made a big increase in Search Engine traffic %
Good move Omni !

well according to my calculations you should get the pokeball award in 6 months if you're half lucky i could be wrong now but i dont think so!

It was a very smart idea, the SEO rankings would of made a hell of a difference since adding a subforum and award.

Confound - July 22, 2016, 5:28 am

So is it official that omni moved up chances to obtain the award from 1/250 to 1/300? I wasn't aware of that but maybe he posted in his thread regarding the award. That would make sense given less and less people are winning it these days. That could also be coupled with the fact that less people are posting so rapidly in the sub forum since the day of the release. Who knows.

Depends ;p, If you are a big pokemon fan this might have way more meaning to you. I would prefer the Clover award too tho.

Confound - July 22, 2016, 7:29 am

I mean its all about rarity. Any award is nice to receive I'd say, but that said, people appreciate some more than others. Which is totally fine. As for the poke ball, I think its nice to receive an award like this for someone who has attempted at receiving it for ages - it shows you worked hard for it, which I think is pretty cool. As for me, I've gotten through over 250+ posts on the sub section and still have yet to receive it. Looking at the recent given awards, it appears that one hasn't been given out since yesterday. Maybe someone will get it today.

Kuso - July 22, 2016, 7:39 am

119 post in this section, the most active section for my posting activity so far over taking every other section besides lounge and still no award lol.

Confound - July 22, 2016, 8:06 am

Yeah believe it or not im up to 271 after this post with no luck. Seems like its just not meant to be at this point :p But Ill keep trying. I banged out a hundred or so the first day, but since then its been more casual for me. i just enjoy talking in the sub forum and conversing about the game in general. So if it happens without me trying as hard, it'll be even more worth the time spent trying.

That would suck if it did increase. But, I don't see any posts that says so.

I have a feeling that the way to win the award would just be not to try as hard.

Yeah I agree with you pillows. I don't think its been raised to 300 though. I think its still 1/250 and just that much less people are posting 100 char posts in the sf, meaning less and less people will be receiving the award. people went so hard the first few days that it was kinda crazy, its died down a bit since then.

I would say that the roll out of the PokeBall award was much better than the shamrocks. There are still many posts that just make no sense or are just spam copy paste though.

If you see any copying and pasting going on, go ahead and report the posts for LQ. Thats against the rules.

I really don't mind "hunting" for this award, the subforum is really fun and active, plus I learn new things about Pokemon Go constantly.

Don't give up bro. If you do really enjoy the game and this your chill spot, I'm pretty sure you'll be able to get your award at some point man.

Good luck and see you around my man. ?

Yeah it shouldn't feel like you are "trying" to get the award. Just have fun and conversate with people, and it will happen eventually.

Confound - July 22, 2016, 10:17 pm

Seems like more awards have been given out. But not to anyone from this thread. That said, it could still happen. Got 219 posts and counting, and still more awards to be given out. id love to see this happen for someone. Good luck to those still on the poke hunt: in game, and on hf :)

Sharjah - July 22, 2016, 10:19 pm

I believe the awards are automated, so I would assume there would be some sort of bugs

Keep on grinding I have faith that we'll get the award by next year.....

? TAQ ? - July 22, 2016, 10:31 pm

Like all the others said, he could of deleted his post or the thread was junked, however, I feel like newer accounts seem to have better luck at earning the 100 char awards.

Marcel Adams - July 22, 2016, 10:38 pm

How do you even earn the pokemon award just by posting in the section and randomly getting it?

Mr.Peanut - July 22, 2016, 10:40 pm

I think I got my award at around 60-62 posts in that section op. The thing is, there was a glitch were no one was getting the award and I told people to post bc that would be fixed shortly after. Pretty happy I have mine :)

By posting in the Pokemon Go section, and your post must contain at least 100 characters.
