The fact this image is gyazod leads me to believe it's from a botted account on your PC not phone

You get no cool points for fake flexing

You get no cool points for fake flexingI went out and caught it, came home and went on bluestacks since its easier to evolve and transfer mass, but thanks for your opinion

What's the point of having 138k stardust if you're not going to use it? Lmao

Knucklez. - July 23, 2016, 11:19 pm

And you can level him up a lot!

Too bad you need the candies. :(

I've read that this is the 2nd strongest pokemon behind Mewtwo.

Marcel Adams - July 23, 2016, 11:22 pm

Hey! I got 238k stardust straighup legit! jk jk

The reason behind not using them stardust is that, you can wait until the maximum level you want to reach before powering up / evolving.. More level = more chances of a better pokemon and more CP for an evolved one..

Gucci? - July 24, 2016, 12:36 am

I just started botting but i caught this a while ago :P

I mean I'm lvl 21, have 78k stardust and have spent 20-30k, and only play for a few hours a day. Not saying I necessarily believe he's legit but it's not that much stardust if you spend a days work worth of time each day on this and have been since the start.

Ash™ - July 24, 2016, 2:07 am

Damn lots of people getting dragonites recently!

Mr. Robot - July 24, 2016, 2:10 am

I personally would say bottled and you have also leveled him up yourself haven't you? I thought you got 3 candies from catching dragnite.

And you also get 1 candy from evolving into it, which would explain your lack of candies.

Gucci? - July 24, 2016, 11:25 am

The dragonite i caught wasn't bottd i actually caught it when the bot wasn't even public, it was around 1000cp and i leveled it up a couple of times, still pretty high when i caught it! thanks for your guys' opinions!

I started seeing them close to level 20. I'm 20 now maybe it just varies on location and level is meaningless?
