If you gonna link anything encrypted, give a password with it.

Edit: Sorry my mistake, it required a password to see for me.

I would give this a 7/10, it was organised and not spammed with pictures etc. I like you writing style, too. But surely, if you did this repeatedly, somebody would catch on eventually. Yeah, ups might see it as you live in a bad area, but they might not believe that and check others in your area and see if they 'are missing their package.'

And no, I did not leech the eBook for personal use nor am I going to use this method.

Well... I read it. It's ok, it is a very well known method still OP added some sites I was unaware off and some nice tips and tricks.

Virus scan showed nothing and it's only 4 pages. Thanks for the share!

I have received a vouch copy of this method and this is my review:

Method: The method itself is actually pretty easy to go through. Definitely requires a tad bit of work on your part and also requires that you do a bit of research but once again, nothing too hard. Additionally, this cannot be used more than about five times (and that's pushing it) in a short amount of time. You also can't try this method with the same retailer more than once within a few years.

Writing:

Writing was exceptional. There were little to no errors and the guide was pretty easy to read and follow. The eBook is broken into about 2 or 3 pages with sections describing each step.

Overall:
