Thread: Post Your SpeedTest Results!

yotoprules - July 24, 2016, 2:06 pm

Hey, I recently just upgraded my internet from 3.5 MB/s to 250 MB/s and I couldn't even stream a 1080p video before. So much faster!

[\[IMG\]http://www.speedtest.net/result/5500877820.png\[/IMG\]](#)

I can stream 4K video at ease. Post your results and see who's is fastest!

Haha, with my old Internet (3mbps) I could only stream 720 also, 1080p was impossible for me but now I can stream 4K videos at ease.

Used to get 2.5 then upgraded, and even though it's still shit it's literally night and day compared to the old speed.

Just wondering what quality video can you stream with that speed? Can you stream 4K?

saliva - July 27, 2016, 6:37 pm

You have 250 Mb/s, not MB/s.

Mb/s = megabits per second

MB/s = megabytes per second.

Huge difference.

8 bits in a byte.

That's really the only reason I want it. I plan on streaming quite a bit, I've got the PC for it, but my upload doesn't support me being host AND streaming. Its one, or the other.

Hindu - July 27, 2016, 7:50 pm

Not fast at all, but does the job. This is supposed to be a 50mbps connection, but half the times, I get similar fucked up results.

Apart from 3 cities in New Zealand, this the fastest home connection you can get anywhere. 200 Down, 200 Up.

Pretty much get this speed consistently (This is over Wireless as well)

yotoprules - July 29, 2016, 3:38 am

My speeds go up to 250 down if you use Ethernet, but the router is too far away so I have to use AC WiFi, which is pretty good, much better than Wireless N.
