I guess my ISP is a little fucky right now and it's kind of a buzz kill because I'm just tryna enjoy my time high as fuck before work. Basically only some websites are loading. HF and Runescape(I don't even play this anymore, I just used as a test so I can't do this for fun) are the only two sites I've found that are loading. Things like Google, Yahoo, Speedtest, Facebook, and Snapchat won't work at all.

Spotify won't work either but luckily my main playlist is downloaded.

I just can't even begin to understand what kinda problem this is. I guess I'm gonna test if CSGO works.

Try Google's DNS <https://developers.google.com/speed/public-dns/> or Comodo's DNS <https://www.comodo.com/secure-dns/>

Omg mine was like this yesterday!

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5349322>

it fixed today automatically so it's probably some ape at your ISP that spilled coffee in the server room lol
