Personallu I don't really like the thread design.

It's too squished together and the font choice could've been better, imo. But I do enjoy the signature.

It's kinda clean and i kinda like it. Could you tell me the fonts used plox?

Guess you are right. I wanted to play with those fonts and I'm using them in my new upcoming shop design and they look totally different there.

I wanted to keep it short since it has too much information.

The signature was done in 10 mins ?

I have to agree with Shane here. It really does look squished together and that ruins the feel of the design.

The idea & actual design are neat, just some minor typography edits and it should be great.

+ I really like the smooth animations on the signature. Good job.

I'll work on my layouts. Thanks for the review

I really liked everything about both of them except for the colors used. I don't feel like they really mix well..

The thread design is a bit crowded, but otherwise they both look very nice!
