Decided to make a Lounge thread for all Pokemon Go players who don't cheat. Let's see if we can make this official? Basically post in here any questions about playing legit, catches, exclusive locations, and just general chat about playing the game itself. Will make this thread look nice if it gets enough attention. The sub has been overrun by people wanting to cash-in and make a few bucks botting their accounts and selling them. If you are a legitimate player looking for good conversation with other members of the community who are not cheating then this is the place for you.

Possible Discussion Topics: Daily finds

Rank-ups

Highest Pokemon

Egg hatchings

Good cities to find Pokemon

I get it with the nature of the forum but as a legit player, I am greatly outnumbered. Just reached level 27 tonight. Currently my highest is a 2253 Vaporeon. Still can stardust it more and plan on it tomorrow.

Is the best way to earn stardust just blindly catching any Pokemon you see? Because that shit sucks. Lol Literally catch every Pokemon you see. Even if its a pidgey, rattata, weedle or caterpie. You get stardust for every catch and XP for evolving those, as they have the lowest evolution cost. I usually just transfer them after I evolve them, and it shoots my stardust way up. Sometimes if I have a lucky egg, I'll stockpile a bunch of them and evolve them all at once for those crazy XP gainz.

To build up stardust my personal favorite has been as simple as not using any of it haha. I figure that the later you use the better results so just save as much as possible. But yeah if you need some quickly catching trash pokemon is the way to go.

It's very easy to find a spot in your town and 90% of the time if it's a 3x Pokestop spot it will be lured. I have a job and play with my friends. Have put $25 into the game and can justify spending it. When I go a few towns over there are 300+ people there until 2 am and I never have to lure it, somebody else always does.

You seem to know alot about the game so I'm sure you already know but just in case you dont, Make sure you don't waste any coins you buy. I wasted some of the first lot I bought on pokeballs without realizing the value of the coins. Lucky Eggs and Lures are the way to go.

Near my house I get a lot of Drowzee's, Zubat's, the regular pokemon no one wants. But when I go to this park by the water sorta near my place (this is where I go most of the time). I get a massive range of Pokemon, but mostly Dratini's, Magikarp and Eevee's. There's this spot where lots of people go and there's 3 Pokestops side by side and the rich people put lures up there 24/7, so I can sit there for 4 hours and farm a Gyarados and a ton of Eevee's. Plus the view is pretty nice.

Depends on the moveset, but it doesn't look like there's any need considering you have like 7 Vaporeons.

Onyx constantly spawns by the airport that I'm flying out of. So I think I might try to catch him lol.

Honestly, Onyx is pretty shit. Pretty sure his CP per power up is pretty bad too. I mean, he's cool to add to the list, why not, but I personally wouldn't use him in battles/gym spots.

Not really worried, just trying to collect right now.

Will start battling eventually.

I Am JT - July 26, 2016, 12:32 am

Just picked myself up a pretty decent evee should I get another vapereon or go with one of the others?

Around 600 so should do the job. Yeah I probably will go with Jolteon as I already have quite a few other fire pokemon anyway

Damn my highest eevee is like 160. Rip. I need two more eevee's so I can evolve mine.
I'm going with vaporeon, then jolteon.

SIM-1349466 - July 26, 2016, 12:36 am

Just caught a Gengar on my walk to hatch my eggs.
Unfortunately, nothing good from my eggs. :\

Edit: Gengar is CP 1106 btw.

Always go with Vaporeon. Jolteon and Flareon are honestly useless. If you're going to use an electric or fire pokemon in a battle, use an Electabuzz or a Magmar. Vaporeon has the highest DPS and HP and highest CP per evolution/power up. Honestly one of the strongest Pokemon in the game.

Gingerdream - July 26, 2016, 12:42 am

I finally managed to get enough candies for a Venusaur. I just used him in a battle against an 1800 and a 1900 Lapras, and he beat both of them without dying. My little guy is only 1500. Any of you ever battled with a Venusaur? He's actually strong as fuck.

SIM-1349466 - July 26, 2016, 12:42 am

That was the first time I've ever seen one too. Luckily, I have 40 candy for the Haunter I was waiting to evolve.

Ghastly isn't too common in my area so it should take a while until I get a second Gengar.

I caught a CP 1264 Venusaur at a 7-11 over the weekend. Yeah, he's strong, but not my best. Good one to leave at a gym.

What level are you? Just find a nice spot with 2-3 Pokestops touching each other, Guaranteed there will be a ton of people sitting there placing lures on them, so you don't have to pay a dime. Catch every Pokemon you see and evolve the low-cost ones, such as pidgey, caterpie and weedle and then transfer them after you evolve them once. You'll power through levels and then start catching some higher CP pokemon.

I have a Bot running but not to make money off of it. I have one running to compare experience rates in Japan to where I live now. In other words; Botting vs. Human interaction.

Hey guys, those who are interested in IV values of your pokemon, can check out <http://www.pokemongonexus.com> , though right now it's only for Google accounts.

I found this on r/PokemonGoDev and I thought I'd share it. I wouldn't really consider this cheating as you aren't fixing with the content of the game, but reading data and translating it into complicated math equations(which have been posted on the prior subreddit mentioned).

It's really cool, figured out my 488 CP Charmander is 96% perfect, 15/15/14.

There's only one or two gyms in my town so, it's very common for them to be taken over numerous times a day.

On my way home, the (or one of) the gyms by my house has 4 Dragonites on it at around CP 1800. I'd say that's a good hold, but since it's a 9/11 memorial and doesn't close at night, it'll change soon.

Oh interesting. I'm from a medium populated area of Australia and it really seems like unless you go into the city its really easy to hold down gyms if you have any Pokemon with over 1k CP

Pokemon Go is not officially available in my country and it takes me ages to find a pokestop. I legit have to walk 1-2 km's before even finding a goddamn Rattata or Zoobat. I guess, RIP my dreams of becoming a Pokemon master. Just gotta wait until nintendo launches in my country or some people in my locality start to play this game.

Anyhow, by the looks of it, the game is simply amazing. It's gonna bring a revolution in the obese nerd industry. I know this guys who has been acting so hyped about this, it legit looks like he is regaining his childhood by playing this game. LOL

Also, a major drawback this game faces is the internet requirement. Kills me every time....

I wouldn't bot this game, it's pretty much the only reason I leave my house. Also, the only "cheat" I am using is Pokemap(Not PokeVision)which every time they spawn I take a picture on my phone and of the map. However, the only reason I use the map is due to the 3-step bug still being an issue.

Pokevision is a live map that scans your location via GPS and displays the exact location of nearby Pokemon on a map so you can easily walk/drive to that location and catch the Pokemon you want.

The 3 step bug shows all nearby Pokemon as being 3 steps away, what nearby is supposed to show is 0,1,2 or 3 steps away so that you know how far a Pokemon is.

I'm at level 17, but hopefully gonna play some this weekend. Need to beef up my Arcanines. I've had horrible luck with the moves after evolution :L Someone's been holding a gym by me with a 2400 Arcanine for a while. Lucked out and caught an Aerodactyl, but it's only 89CP. Hatched 2 Ghastlys, finally got my Machop, caught a couple Meowths and Magmars, and slowly hunting down enough Vulpixes to get me a Ninetails. Also have a couple Voltorb, Rapidash, Omanyte, Kabuto, Pidgeotto, almost enough candies for a Pidgeot, too many fucking Sandshrews and Ekans, a few Rhydon, a Tauros, Charmander (still need that damned Bulbasaur), a Clefairy, aaaand you're about caught up on where Ol' Crypto™'s at. Got a Pinsir out of my last one but really want a Lapras.

The first 10km egg I hatched was a Lapras. Wasn't that great though.

10km eggs aren't too common for me either anymore. Just need Snorlax from it.

All I need from the starters is Charizard which is gonna take forever.

I believe that legitimate playing and other methods of playing can survive side by side. I think right now, the market for this is booming - especially because it's on HackForums. I think over time that may go down a bit, but as things get patched up, accounts will be worth more in general. People that play legitimately will reach top levels, and they may want to cash out on their hard work too. So yeah, maybe some people get their accounts fast, but that doesn't mean legitimate accounts aren't worth anything either. A lot of level 20-30 people exist that didn't use any exploits or interesting methods... Those accounts are worth something, and I think it's good that HF is developing a market for them early on. Believe me, some of you will be very thankful you have a way to cash out on your account one day.

Anyways, I'm a huge fan of legitimate gameplay, but I don't absolutely hate other types of playing this game. I'm glad there's a community here, especially so in this thread. It's important to keep the real heart of the game in conversation here at HF so that it's not completely overrun by other methods and markets.

VLONE - August 2, 2016, 2:36 am got to level 16 last night. had something weird happen yesterday when i was attempting to evolve my Eevee into a Jolteon. i put the name as Sparky but i got a Flareon for some reason. not sure what happened but it became my second highest pokemon i have then i ended up trying the eeveelution easter egg later and it work and i got a jolteon, and so now i have vaporeon, flareon and jolteon as my top 3 pokemon with cp's of 1245, 1140, and 926. quite pleased with that atm since i took down two gyms to the neutral setting yesterday, even before i had that second flareon and second jolteon. i had a hypno about 700 cp and a flareon at a low 600 cp.

what did you guys think of the update? i noticed that a surefire way to get catches was fixed with the way a wild pokemon appears now. you can't just continually swipe until it appears to get a great or nice throw, it becomes frozen, acts like you're holding the pokeball or doesn't throw the ball at all. i've seen arguments on other threads here about people being banned and about how they couldn't have been banned because they haven't started enforcing yet. i wonder what they'll do to players who have been botting and selling accounts. have a nice day catching them all!

I'm positive the vast majority of players are legitimate. HF doesn't make up even remotely a sizable percentage of the player base. I run into dozens of new faces every day and night I go out. On HF the vast majority of the discussion we see is about botting so I think it's easy to think that's how most people are.

I've only ever gotten one 10 km egg, then some of my friends get them all the time. So unfair! ?

SIM-1349466 - August 2, 2016, 7:43 am

That's weird. Whenever I hatch all 9 of my eggs and restock, at least 2 of them are 10km.

I've seen a few people at around my level say they don't get 10km eggs that often anymore.

Have you at least caught stuff that can hatch from a 10km egg?

All I need right now: Snorlax and another aerodactyl with hyper beam.

5km eggs are the hardest to get what you want considering there's like 4x the pokemon in those. Porygon, Mr. Mime and Kangaskhan are the only things I don't have from those .

Guys just a question. I am currently level 22 and i started playing since official release (in the netherlands). And yet i still didnt get a single 10km egg.... its like the game hates me.

My friend who is also level 22 has already got around 5 10km eggs but he started playing before original release day. Can this be the reason?

I only get 2km and 5km eggs. And yesterday i had 9/9 eggs (all 5km) 1 hatched got a poliwag from it ok..... so i go to my eggs to put another egg in the incubator. And i see 9/9 5km eggs again?? I didnt visit a pokestop so where did i automaticly get the egg from? i checked my recent list and the poliwag i hatched was there.

BTW i hatched 47 eggs so far + 9 in inventory = 56 eggs but not a single 10km egg.

I'm beginning to notice that, certain stops have given me more or better items than others.
Ex: A church with a pokestop usually gives me better stuff than a popular store with a pokestop.
I've hatched about 20 10km eggs, but not entirely sure where I've gotten them.

When I hatch my eggs tonight, i'll go out tomorrow and see how things go.

If you live near a college, just go walk around the campus and you'll find a ton of pokestops and pokemon. Plus people always set lures so you can take advantage of those too.
