Thread: My opinion on Projectvelly / Vuno's amazing cheat!

KushForPrez - July 26, 2016, 7:17 pm

This is a review of the product: Project Velly Lite.

I bought it, 30$ for 1 month after seeing that they support faceit.
Not only did i spend 30$ i also had to pay 1$ to even be verified on the forums.

I used it for a few day in matchmaking, setting up my config, perfecting it.
Then i decided to test it out on faceit, as they claim they support it.

I Proceeded to use the "6/20/2016 FaceIt Settings" which is supposed to work and be undetected.
And BOOOOM

So, what now Vuno?
What am i gonna do with 20+ days of my 1 Month Subscription left?

Lmfao. Dude If you did ANY kind of reading and or asked ANYONE in the discord live chat Facelt support was removed a month ago because the aimbot was a bit buggy. But go ahead. Continue to complain about how a cheat is bad simply because you cant do some reading ? ? Enjoy your VAC over at Platinum ?

Ye he added faceit support and it worked, but the aimbot was buggy with most settings so he removed it agen(after we asked for it). every one could have told you this if you asked.-. that's why we have a discord._. If you want a cheat for faceit support i would go with Platinum right now.

also as far as i know only the aimbot is detected. Just like platinums bhob and Psilent is._.
So technically its still faceit undetected._.

He has a Faceit undetected aimbot it just had some bugs that as a community we agreed to have it reverted at the cost of not having faceit aimbot support. This was a few weeks ago. All other features are undetected and the only reason Faceit is detected was due to popular vote to have it reverted back till the bugs get worked out of the Faceit Aimbot. Doing some reading on the forums and or asking in the live chat this could have easily been found. Vuno has been super busy and hardly even been on at all for as good bit and the website just simply hasnt been updated yet.

You're completely over reading what im saying and trying to twist them into what you want them to say rather than what they actually say. We had a working Facelt aimbot though a bit buggy when first released. By popular request a few weeks ago we asked for the Facelt aimbot to be removed until the bugs could be worked out thus reverting us to a >Non-Facelt< supported aimbot BY REQUEST.

What happened to the user is unfortunate, but by doing some reading on the forums or asking anyone in live chat he would have found that our aimbot was reverted to a Non-Facelt supported aimbot not long ago. I understand why the user is upset but when it comes down to it the website just simply hasnt been updated yet.

I cannot believe there are people in this thread that are actually blaming OP for getting his FaceIT ban. Do you retards not see at the top of the shoutbox it says its undetected on FaceIT? - It's a blatant lie.

Its like saying EzFragz don't have anti-report bot feature and demo corrupter for CS:GO.

He should be refunded due to false advertising and leading to him getting banned.
OP if you decide to chargeback, make sure you reset/refresh windows, because you won't know what Vuno might have in his cheat.. RAT, Steam Stealer, Keylogger for those who chargeback on a scam..?

While I think its quite silly of you to even consider buying something from Vuno, (check his UC post before he got banned.. my god..) you have the right to get refunded.

Vuno has been super busy and hardly even been on at all for as good bit and the website just simply hasnt been updated yet.

So he removed the FACEIT aimbot a few weeks ago and he has been offline for 1 week according to both you and klung.

A few is usually defined as 3 so we will use 3 weeks as a place holder.

Let's say it took 1 week to remove it since he has been so "busy" and then he has also been offline for 1 week. That still leaves 1 week unaccounted for in which he could have spent 5-10 minutes of his time updating the shout box as well as the main page.

No matter how busy he is, if he cared about the cheat and actually cared about his business he would MAKE time to fix it. Not to mention he would spell the anti cheats he supports on the front page of his site correctly. Big valve ant cheat. Keeping ants detected since the beginning of time.

So, you and klungex have contradicted both each others stories and both also reassured everyone here that vuno doesn't care about his cheat or products since he can't make time to fix a 2-5 minute error which literally involves removing a sentence.

Have you seen Vunos posts about his Aimbot on UC? I highly doubt that thing was Faceit UD, even if it was in the cheat before, no "good name" to keep. :D

I still dont get why people use hardcoded beziers instead of generating a spline based on the last movement. In before p2cs release super-private-spline-aimbots.

No one here takes him serious, at least no one who knows shit about cheats and coding etc.

Well yeah, what do you expect from his poorly coded cheats?

It's prpbly even c+p all the way, I mean fucking glow esp and in cross trigger is he even trying?

I dont think so.

Just dont talk about his meme site and about him and he will just give up an stop shitposting after some time (I hope).

It was announced the Facelt aimbot was removed a while ago. What's your argument now? Users have to request the Facelt aimbot now.

If you asked for it, you could of gotten it, but you didn't. The Facelt undetected is staying because of the Triggerbot and Bunnyhop working on Facelt. Also, I haven't been active on the site due to real life issues. But yes, I've announced every where else on the site (even in updates) that the Facelt aimbot was removed.

Also when I get home from work, your 20 days subscription will end, and you will be banned for violating forum rules. You better leak the cheat now as I'm about to leave for work and won't be able to do nothing about it until I'm home. I said this publicly, now make another thread on it lol. It's well known I don't want people like you in my community and I don't care about being professional.

I think this should also be pointed out. The user admitted to using the "Facelt" settings from 6/20/2016 which is over a month old. Since that post the way the aimbots smoothing works has also changed (Also could have been found on the forums about this change). Anyways this users smoothing setting was set between 6 and 8. With that kind of smooth he was basically rage hacking. Most users that play legit have a smooth of atleast 100 and usually more. So not only did OP take an unsupported feature into Facelt but also basically rage hacked with it because he didnt want to read any kind of update list, and use a month old config. Just thought I would point that out aswell.

Shall I take Platinum cheats into Faceit crank up my FOV and smooth and cry out to the world how they are Facelt detect?

The funny thing is, you can't. Everywhere on the Platinum Forum its stated that only the True-Aim Aimbot supports Facelt. They even have a "Faceit Validation" button, which checks your settings for Faceit. You aren't able to get a bust without being stupid.

With Vuno on the other hand, if you buy today and dont go through the whole Forum you'll end up banned, because he removed the Facelt Aimbot and still advertises Facelt proofness on the Website. Dank memes bro :D

People have leaked my cheat about 7 times, but leaks don't affect my anti-cheat security. Not to mention the cracks never really worked. The leaks just give anti-cheat companies the wrong thing to scan for which actually increases my undetectability status.

He hasn't violated any forum rules. If he violates any cheat usage rules, the sever will automatically ban him. Also I don't really in force the forum rules unless it's about the ESEA cheat. If I don't like someone, I'll just wait till they violate a forum rule, so I can rightfully kick them out. Just like a job you know? Actually even though vuno is top notch lier and scammer his curve aimbot is shite I believe is what they are saying and has bugs? Anyways that means he removed it cause they told him to? Then op went and used the aimbot which is not for faceit play since it's linear? and got banned for it. So both party's are at fault since for starters maybe op should check more carefully? But also the website should be more clear, but why would it vuno is supreme liar master first class.

I just love when people don't take the time to actually read a thread and see what's actually going on before they just jump in and see the first thing that some retard that can't read says and instantly takes it for what it is and as the truth. Draig said EXACTLY what happened and how it happened and is right in what he said. So for all the new people that don't want to take the time and read the thread and just read the first "Anti Vuno" statement and think it's true.

Vuno has a working Facelt undetected aimbot. When it was released not long ago it had a few bugs that as a community for the time being we decided that we would like to revert to the old aimbot until the bugs could be worked out. When that happened we all understood that we were no longer going to be able to use aimbot in Facelt till the bugs have been worked out. Second back to the statement just made about someone being banned for using bad settings. In this case this is NOT why the user got banned from Facelt, however they were indeed using old settings that basically would have caused him to be "Rage hacking" in the settings post he used it had the aimbot smoothing set to 6-8. Since that post was made not only was the Facelt aimbot removed but also the way the aimbot smoothing settings were used were also changed. With the change a good "legit" aimbot smooth would need to be ATLEAST 100. This guy was using 6-8.... basically instant snapping. This is all information he could have found on the forums, but I'll get to that.

Next yes the front page does still say "we support Facelt" and guess what, that's because we do! The triggerbot and bunnyhop are fully working on Facelt. And this user could have got a working aimbot from Vuno for Facelt by simply asking for it. This information could have been found by looking on the forums for a max of 2 minutes. It isn't buried information, it isn't tucked away in some random post its right in the updates section where it CLEARLY states that Facelt aimbot was removed and in that same post it also says that there is new smoothing. If you want to see a screen shot of the post just go back a few pages on this thread and I posted the screenshot.

People are just bashing Vuno for the sake of doing it at this point. I mean look the best thing that can be said is "vac won't go after an autistic cheat that's why he's undetected for so long" I mean really?
