Thread: aKa Photon \(uid=2465078\) false advertising for critical-stress

LeSeR - July 28, 2016, 12:54 am

Hello

User aKa Photon (uid=2465078) is false advertising and lies to its customers in order to gain sales, I was told and shown proof that the service has the ability to drop my target, what can be shown here:

Album and payment proof can be seen here:

<https://imgur.com/a/NCqli>

I am asking for a full refund or atleast a part of it as I have been lied to.

Last I checked, Critical Boot hit pretty hard.

Description - July 28, 2016, 2:13 am

What a dick "happens that's life" i'm not going to ever buy from them.

1. Your images are all out of order.
2. Your grammar is horrible. I can barely understand half of what you're saying.

Regardless if 80-100 gbps was advertised and you were only given 40 i'd say that's a report on it's own.

But then again I wouldn't be stupid enough to buy a service if I requested them to do a test boot for me and they ignore me.

If you can't at least act professional when dealing with clients then you shouldn't be running any sort of service.

If you do not talk about the same subject
You can watch without answering

He said he could make it down when i buy a VIP plan

After the purchase I can not make it down
It is ignored all support tickets

This is the subject

1. The issue does not need to arrange as long as there is evidence
2. I do not think the grammar related to the sale and purchase

When a seller is unsure of the service
You do not have to lie to customers

Can say that he can not
This does not detract from his service thing

This is another reason why NetStresser is continuedly dominating the market.

Dominating the market with that insane <1% market share and ridiculously powerful <300M floods.

weres the screenshots of us downing it/pinging out and lying to you???

We never do test boots, anyone who's made a ticket knows that check our faq, you're no different.

If we recommend VIP it's because it's the strongest plan we have and there is nothing else we can do for you, service suspended.

this leser kid is annoying af, he does this every month he buys.

like we do you keep rebuying VIP for $200+ if everrrry month you come on HF and try to ruin sales from posting shit on our thread or making reports? makes no sense lmao like are you a multi or something? you're trolling us right???

As said in our doc's we don't provide test boots and never will. we get so many requests per day you think we're going spend all our time/bandwidth with each person until they are "impressed" and buy? cheapest plan is $12.75 dude, there's your trial otherwise don't buy.

lmao this kid...

You should probably ignore this and post on the deal dispute

Who are you to specify what it does!

Actually surprised by who watch legitimacy reports

And write nonsense

I think they are infected with mental blindness

At least it provided an alert to the community not to deal with this child

It's well known that Critical Boot has been faking dstats since they launched !

Their real power is anywhere near ridiculous and they run on rooted servers mostly, ofcourse power sucks, not to mention VIP ... No you do not get 40G, not even close!

It can't even down a decent home connection tbh, as many users have previously mentioned.

Sorry for your loss

LeSeR - August 4, 2016, 11:42 pm

Thank you for your trust report

Already very funny Service

All I care about is warning the community of sellers scammers

240sx - August 4, 2016, 11:54 pm

Photon is a legit member and his stresser hits hard as fuck last time I checked. Known him for a few years and I know he wouldn't venture scamming or false advertise when he's been active in SST for awhile..

Nerdi - August 5, 2016, 12:52 pm

I'm on the side of the booter here. I've never used it, and I have no clue who owns it...

However, here's the FACTS (that OP posted himself in screenshots):

He never gave them an IP or site to test-boot...they don't offer test boots anyways.

The booter staff NEVER said "our booter WILL take down ip address" <--- because the IP was never even shared before the guy bought the booter...

He bought the VIP package, knowing that there was no guarantee it would take down his target, and then got mad when it didn't work for his target

If we let OP label the booter as a scammer, can I go buy the smallest package from any booter on HF and then open a deal dispute because I can't boot Google offline? Fuck no, that's ridiculous - And so is agreeing with OP - You know why? Because OP never asked them "can your booter take down this IP ____" and thus there's no scam here.

The booter provided a certain amount of power. It was up to the OP to check to see what type of mitigation/protection his target has. He should have concluded that his target could (or couldn't) be taken down by the booter BEFORE he paid $200+

This sucks for OP, but it's not a scam IMO
