Punisher - July 28, 2016, 9:46 pm

So I was on this online pokemon game called Pokemon Legends and someone was posting a link in the chat box.

He was telling people how he could randomly generate PokeCoins, idk if it's real though

I tried it, hopefully they show up in my account, I signed up with a pokemon trainer account though, he said his was google

Yes, it has a survey, I figured that was the only way they could afford to give away pokecoins free like that.

Anyone have a method to get free coins? Still looking

So you're basically giving them money by filling out the survey and then you get nothing or you get malware.

Great.
