So your a brand new botshop with no previous posts relating to a botshop and you have already set a minimum order of 500 bots. Just like the last guy R2-D2 did.

I can't even find any reliable vouches for you either mate.

I did message you for 500 GEO targeted bots but the price is to high for somebody with practically no rep as a botshop in the past and you didnt reply to my message asking to do a smaller test purchase to make sure you have the bots I require?

?Mystical - August 12, 2016, 3:39 am

Why do i always see new botshops pop up with some fake vouches, and then a week later users acc is closed. Dosnt this get old?

That's pretty much what I think aswell. The OP has logged in since all this has been posted on his thread and hasn't even bothered to reply which is a little strange...?

And you're saying the price is too high when in fact it is cheaper than other botsellers here (e.g bull) but you can buy from him if you don't like my prices. He's a good seller and I do respect the way he deals with people, straight and to the point.

As I said I already have people buying daily from here. You can go buy from bull if he would accept someone like you ?And jesus christ you said it's strange that I didnt accept your $ and sell you loads? What would be bad / strange is someone taking your $ and not fulfilling your order. Theres a reason Im not accepting you.

TrinityUK - August 12, 2016, 5:20 pm

The problem wasn't you 'Accepting me' because you did offer to sell me 500 for $230 in a PM, It's not letting new buyers do a smaller test purchase instead of having to spend hundreds of dollars blind to somebody they have never dealt with before.

You act as if you're some long standing well established bot shop without any history or reputation to proof it.

I would buy 1000s of bots from you but I just wanted to see if you even had them before I spend so much money (which seems reasonable to me).

You would no doubt sell more if you were more reasonable or atleast vouched by some credible people.

My marketing tactic is that I don't care if people have 1 post hence I post my skype on the top and it's a bunch of random people I get contacted by, some are time wasters hence I dont have time for people who want 'test loads'. Maybe we can deal in the future but for now I'm asking nicely for you to stop posting on my thread. We never had a deal and if you have any concerns you can PM me.

I was going to buy 1000 loads until i seen this i dont see a reason why you cant sell some test loads unless you dont acctully have them the op post saying they have not got them ect not looking good for now

Harukichi Yamaguchi - August 24, 2016, 6:32 pm

@imnottellingyou

His file was executed on 580 and his file is clearly corrupted. I even tried to send installs to check, he did not receive any.

imnottellingyou - August 25, 2016, 8:38 am im willing to test you out i need uk loads i would be buying 500+ every few days but i cant risk loosing anymore money on here i dont mind using you but only if you offered a smaller test amount before hand to make sure your legit i also know a few other people who would buy them if i was to recomend you in the long run it will go in your favour doing this i would also give you a vouch let me know
