Anyone here currently learning a new language and why?

I'm attempting to learn Deutsch. I'm shit at it, but can understand basics. I plan on moving to Germany or at least traveling there so I can visit the land of my ancestors, I also plan on visiting Italy but I have family members who speak Italian so if I ever went I would bring them to translate. I have no German speaking family members so i'd have to learn it. I wonder if there is a Rosetta Stone torrent xD

I speak German at a professional level.

I'm from NZ. German is a great language to learn if your native tongue is English.

Yeah I noticed many similarities.

Shockolade
Perfekt
Wasser

Many words in German sound like English words so it makes it easy to memorize them.
