Thread: Ultimate Doxing - Ep. 6 - Pizza Doxing Master Edition

So if you guys seen my previous pizza doxing thread this variant is ten times more deadly, the original pizza doxing method requires the target to have an online account this one doesn't, everytime someone orders pizza all information gets stored in their sql tables as a guest order, all order information is also archived and this will be abused later, you basically want to trial and error common pizza hut/dominos in your targets vicinity so you will need there state at least and full name. When pizza is ordered the target usually orders it under there name so this is another effective way to dox minors because you can have the specific pizza joint look up the order information based on the first and last name and they will pull up the address and phone number associated with the order so if you just have someones full name and there state this methods highly effective, the hard part is finding the joint they ordered from usually you have to wait untill they decide to order dominoes/pizza hut or call random ones at random times till the employees are able to pull up an order via the targets full name, this is ten times more deadly because you don't need an email or a username for there account. I hope you guys enjoyed this method and it's very useful if your having trouble doxing a minor and need to find leads on one, It's also good for finding people in general. This also works with last names too if you se good enough you can convince them to just pull all orders based on specific last name so it could definitely come in handy.
