Well they are some kind developers lmao. Where are the ass hole devs at that won't give a shit about Niantic's words and can give us a map of rare pokemon? ?

"We have priorities right now but they might find in the future that those things may not work" haha wut so they pretty much don't care that we bot they seem so relaxed about it. ?

I almost jumped for joy when I saw PokeVision tweet about respecting their wishes tbh.

Synconica - July 31, 2016, 2:23 am

Well, for them leaving 2 new ones will popup

Pokevision isnt shutting down. From what I read on their twitter they're just updating things.

nvm rip pokevision I guess.
Finally.

I just used the site to get cords but you can do a ip search and do that Pokesnipers has a built in finder and is way better.

don't worry. i'm still creating my private map. will be release in few hours if i'm done code tonight

godzillaguy - July 31, 2016, 3:52 am

It makes no sense because niantic has it's own game which violates it's own policy with mapping and giving a visual of pokemon locations indirectly.

Get ready developers. You can earn bunch of money. Get a bulletproof hosting and code something similar to poke vision.
