Send me a screenshot in pm? When you change the country, you should only have to manually enter your city/province. What country are you using?

Its pretty nice, took me a while to decide on the picture(s), I purchased more than one, gave one to my mother as a nice little surprise with all her children together.

I didn't check the tank top on the site gender wise, still debating on what I want, but tank tops are generally for both male and female.

I've had my mousepad from this site from over a year, as well as the cosmetic bag and tanktop.

I got an owl on the mousepad, sunflowers on the tanktop, and some edgy tumblr designs on the cosmetic bag. The mousepad is really dirty but I can take a picture of mine if anyone wants to see it

If you order a tank top make sure to order it like two sizes up! I ordered a large and it was like an XS.

Thanks for this tip, I'll keep it in mind when I order my tank top.

So these codes have nothing to do with this?

Did I or did I not just say you're not signing up under me? I've never seen that link nor visited it before, until now. p.s. have to log in to see whats on that link also, cba logging in.

Edit: Either way, these are discount codes(shopping deals), not referral links*, so the answer to your sub-forum question is no.

Just pointing out that when people use these "coupon" codes, they are giving you points (about 1 point for every 10 cent purchased) and these points can be exchanged for cash rewards.. In other words, its a refferal code.

Now I dont know if you were unaware of this, or got the codes from someone else, I actually did purchase the mouse pad using the coupon code myself.

Just letting others know.

I see now, yea the link you gave me is not how I obtained the codes. I checked it out.
