RaZoR User Update Contest

I'm giving away a upgrade to someone really worthy.

Some years ago i wanted to update myself and i couldn't do that. i think there are some people like me. so i like to update one user per 2 weeks.

Rules to enter: don't have any open scam reports. and you are not a spammer, should be a respected member.

You just need show that you are worthy enough to be updated and why i should update you.

contest will be over in 2 days. [2016/08/06]

Good Luck!

Thank you for this giveaway and I hope I have a chance to win.

Thanks again

Regards

Stashy - August 3, 2016, 8:47 pm

Well, I guess I'm worthy because I'm an active user of Hack Forums. I have no big contributions, but I am trying as much as I can to call out the whole shady eBook thing going on right now.

Thanks for doing this.

Mafius - August 3, 2016, 10:07 pm

Ever since I joined I've been constantly using my knowledge to assist users in some of the Hacking sections (check post activity stats). I've already done a few successful deals with members here and would really like to get into Marketplace selling. L33t would be very helpful to me as it would allow me to post sales threads in the Premium Sellers section and overall give me a bit more validity here.

Thank you for hosting this.

If you have concerns about some of the bad rep I've received, please PM me as I can explain them all.

Thanks for doing this. I'm currently denied for ub3r because I applied with minimal rep/post/at the beginning, but even 3p1c is a nice upgrade. Cheers for doing this OP. I've contributed to this website by mainly helping in the CS section, offering a free service of a reportbot, so cheers.

Thank you joining with my contest guys. lets see who will be the lucky person.

Cold Hearted - August 4, 2016, 3:45 am

Hi mate, I know you probably don't know me as I've only been on this forum for around a week.

However, I've already contributed to this forum the best I can. I'm also currently writing up a few extra tutorials/Tricks to release in the future. I believe that I'm ready for an upgrade and it would help out a lot because it would allow me to get more recognition in the forums and then gives me the chance to become an ub3r in the future if I get accepted, which I should hope so. I'm very active as you can probably see and I can't afford this right now, but I would love to be upgraded.

Thanks for this mate, I've also applied for another one of these as another member is doing a contest. Hopefully that doesn't change anything.

I'm entering for myself, Komorobi. Gonna change my name soon to Mangata or Moonlight.

I'm here for almost one year. This is the place where I made friends, talked to people, helped people out, this is a lot of bullshit (true tho), but idk what to say. I'm just a normal guy who likes to get attention, laugh with people and talk about shitty things. But sometimes serious shit. I know there are people who deserve it more than me, but there's a Dutch proverb called 'Wie niet waagt, die niet wint.'. It means 'Nothing ventured nothing gained'. If I don't reply I have 0% winning chance, but if I do it, I have tried it. Oh and if you want me to do self-assured and arrogant , here it comes. I'm active in the Graphics sector. I give people criticism and my opinion on their creations (Rate my GFX), and then they can improve their skills. Oh, and I had I do a lot of Free Graphics Requests. Last week I didn't do anything because I'm on a 18 day trip in Greece but I can't leave this thread without a post. By the way, I'm not UB3R-approved so if you want to upgrade me, you have to do EP1C. Mwoah, it's less expensive, hehe.

Hey guys, I'm Nick. I think it's hard to talk positive about myself, because I don't want to be arrogant. I think I'm allround and I want to be good in everything. I always want to be better than others. I want to excel. That isn't always a good thing, but I think I get the best out of myself. No matter if it's a computer game, graphics, soccer. That are my hobbies too. I like computer games, especially for my PlayStation. CoD, FIFA, GTA V.. Damn, I played that games so much. I was a writer for one of the biggest websites in Holland about games. It was fun, because I liked what I was doing and I got free review-games (legit)! I don't do that anymore because it was hard work, lol. Graphics is another hobby. I love designing, it's like a passion. On saturday, I go to the soccer field or nature and then I take hundreds of photos with my Canon EOS 1200D. After that I go home, start my pc with Photoshop and I start editing. Sometimes it's a beautiful effect, but sometimes I create a whole other picture from my photo. Sports is another thing I like. On the pitch I had the best feeling ever. I could take a free kick. I hit the ball wrong and I regretted. But to my surprise turned the ball into the goal. I cheered and my friends hugged me. Since then, I have a love of football. I'm also a soccerfan. I follow Feyenoord Rotterdam and I go to the matches and I like FC Barcelona and Southampton too. In America there is one soccerteam called the Seattle Sounders. I like that, but idk why. And I like TV shows and ANIME!

Thanks for this contest, RaZor!
