Yes you can, 143VPN offers this feature here on HF, they have great prices, and also have a lifetime package which is well priced and aren't going anywhere anytime soon

No it's not the main reason to buy a VPN

But to answer the question. Yes, but only specific VPNs support portforwarding

Alexishay - August 4, 2016, 12:28 pm

I wouldnt suggest 143vpn i would honestly get cryptic whats my internal ip address?

Type ipconfig into cmd

and the 10.8.x.x is the one for the vpn

Then choose a random port like 45022
