Thread: Got promoted today!

Richard Dawkins - August 5, 2016, 2:01 pm

I work for Wal-Mart and have been there for three years (my entire working life).. I have had a few promotions already, but I was promoted to assistant manager today. That is the first salaried position available in the company and this is the biggest achievement of my career so far. I am extremely excited about this because where I live, there aren't very many career opportunities for 22 year olds without a degree.

Nostre - August 5, 2016, 2:02 pm

Congratulations. I just recently got promoted to a part-time supervisor at UPS. Full-time supervisor is where I would like to be. They make about 100k a year.

Anima Libera - August 5, 2016, 2:03 pm

Thats awesome man! And just add some online earnings to that and you can live a normal happy life ;)

Congrats! I'm only going to be making 50k... but poverty line is around 20k here in Alabama, so 50k is alright. 100k is what I will be making when I make the next step up to Co-Manager.

MyeRodriguez - August 5, 2016, 2:14 pm

Very nice, congratulations, that is a good feat, but keep going, don't stop there :)

Method - August 5, 2016, 2:15 pm

Honestly congratulations. Having a promotion is always a solid feeling. Good work brother.

Vegeta - August 5, 2016, 2:16 pm

Congratulations man, one of my favorite youtubers was also a walmart assistant manager, random but that's what I thought of right away.

Hope you reach where you want to be and celebrate!

Demonstrate - August 5, 2016, 2:16 pm

Congrats on your well-deserved achievement! I understand what it's like getting a promotion and it's the best feeling. Let's just aim for the highest now OP.

I'm too lazy to work outside of work ? I do like the idea though.

???? - August 5, 2016, 2:17 pm

Wow what the hell I didn't know you could climb the ladder to make decent money doing this sort of stuff.

Up In The Smoke - August 5, 2016, 2:17 pm

Congratulations my man, may success follow you like a shadow.

Uhhh what?... lol SURPRISE! I guess.

nutsaholic - August 5, 2016, 2:38 pm

Congratulations man, also you should look into working in construction.

For some jobs like bridge painting that pays over 100k a year. You don't need a degree

I guess you could say I'm lazy... But having an indoor, air conditioned job that I don't have to travel for is worth a lot to me lol.

Why are you going to the bank if your wives are supposed to be picking up the checks?

Cool man you will fit in great here!

Black Kodak - August 5, 2016, 3:18 pm

Ahh, my friend.

Which walmart in Bama do you work at?

All my friends dads do it. And they wear harnesses and shit so they don't fall. It's a pretty easy job and mad guap

Q_ri - August 5, 2016, 9:46 pm

Congratulation! Thats so good for you...

And i hope i can get promote too, so i can be a permanent.

gotta be fucking with me!? Walmart fucking co-supervisers make 50 fucking grand a year? No way? USD? I can't believe that shit.

boost - August 5, 2016, 9:55 pm

That's dope man. congrats! My buddy just got promoted at Fry's electronics and will make $50k yearly as well.

Welcome to the club.

I have been with WalMart for a year and a half. Been in management for the most part.

Keep your associates in line or they will fuck you over. Don't be a dick, but don't be a push over.

Anyone who manages for walmart is well compensated. We also do the daily grind, 12 hour days.. sometimes longer.

You got a while ahead of you for Co-Manager. Most of the Co-Managers here were assistants for 5+ years. That's a time investment.

Store manager is younger than all of them though, that's funny as shit.

Stoned AF - August 5, 2016, 11:15 pm

I can't see myself working at a retail or fast food for life. Good luck though.

Juan The Young Chef Don - August 5, 2016, 11:16 pm

I got fired yesterday...

Then got a new job today. Fucking topkek.

Tony - August 5, 2016, 11:20 pm

Congrats. That's a pretty big achievement. Keep working hard, man!

Bluffer - August 6, 2016, 12:36 am

That's very decent for being only 22 and no college degree.

baderocks2 - August 6, 2016, 5:19 am

Very happy for you dude. Hopefully you'll climb higher too :) Keep hustling!!

Ha Haaa - August 6, 2016, 5:23 am

You call working at Walmart a career. That's a job for losers and dumb ass's.

Just curious.

Zanwald - August 7, 2016, 2:00 pm

Congratulations man. I had that same job before. But company practices at Wal-mart were garbage in the months after Sam's death. I've heard things are a lot better now.

Congratulations! I work at Kroger and it is very hard to move up especially in to other departments. I have thought about working at Walmart before, but they aren't union. Little does everyone know, salary at a grocery store pays a lot.

Heartboy - August 7, 2016, 2:07 pm

Hey man, we take our victories where we can get them! This is awesome! Congratulations on the new position. Soon you'll be a manager and hanging with the top dogs.

UTRONEX - August 7, 2016, 2:11 pm

BOOM! Well done mate excellent news. Keep on pushing and progressing :)

TraneDelColt - August 7, 2016, 2:15 pm

Nice dude. Just noticed there's an assistant manager and co-manager lol, why is that even needed? Seems like both jobs should be combined.

Other than that they resolve any disputes between the assistants. Co managers are only at Super centers.

TSX - August 8, 2016, 2:57 pm

50k is actually good from what people told me living in the south isn't expensive and your money stretches more. Living in New York sucks.

South Africa - August 8, 2016, 4:04 pm

congrats man! must feel incredible

Malthemar - August 8, 2016, 4:06 pm

Congratulations, my friend.

Perhaps one day you'll be regional manager.

Best of luck in your future.
