Aura - August 5, 2016, 4:21 pm

Quote:Nichijou primarily focuses on the daily antics of a trio of childhood friends—high school girls Mio Naganohara, Yuuko Aioi and Mai Minakami—whose stories soon intertwine with the young genius Hakase Shinonome, her robot caretaker Nano, and their talking cat Sakamoto. With every passing day, the lives of these six, as well as of the many people around them, experience both the calms of normal life and the insanity of the absurd. Walking to school, being bitten by a talking crow, spending time with friends, and watching the principal suplex a deer: they are all in a day's work in the extraordinary everyday lives of those in Nichijou.

Yes people don't know what they are talking about, its not very good at all. Give it more than one episode before judging, it grows on you. If you want something with a story stop watching. If you couldn't watch Yuru Yuri or Lucky Star or Cromartie High, this might not be for you.

Viral Dragon - August 5, 2016, 4:30 pm

Cromartie high is fucking hilarious.

"Freddy? Freddie. " "He. Ate. My. Pencil. "

"Nah man, this guy's a bad ass he's like a rabbit in a lion's den, how does that not make him bad ass?"

Like everyone's super-hyped on this show, and I can't seems to understand it at all. Honestly this is something I would watch if I was younger.

TIL: people don't have good tastes in AA. Expecting Angel to come in and stop going on about how there isn't enough mecha in Nichijou

The main character is a mecha. Trust me man, you'll love this. Just like you love momokuri and sweetness and lightning. When have I been wrong

Actually, I'm going to have to agree with Happeh here. There is a "Mecha" in the show.

I may have lied a tiny bit because there is a "mecha" in it although I previously said that there weren't any.

Although I never finished this show, the episodes I did watch were pretty funny. Maybe it's not your thing, everyone has a different sense of humor. Same way some people either love or hate Louis C.K, or Eric Andre.

If you want an absolutely hilarious comedy, check out Golden Boy (DUB):

I'm vouching Golden Boy.

Not only is it funny but it's very motivational IMO. I dream to be half the man Kintarou is.

There are funny moments not my favorite but it was I guess not too bad.

Golden boy didn't need them. Still one of the funniest shows I've ever seen.
