Thread: [\[Plugin\] Thread Results Online Status](#)

Xerotic - August 8, 2016, 1:28 am

Greetings! Today I present a plugin created for MyBB software that was inspired by this thread: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5363460>

Essentially this plugin will allow you to easily view if a member is online while you are browsing forums (forumdisplay.php).

The green circle is the default online color and the gray circle is the default offline color. I have opted not to include the "away" status.

Installation

Installation is very simple. Create the file: inc/plugins/tr_online_status.php Be sure to create the file in the plugins directory! Fill the newly created file with the following code (pastebin embed):

Active the plugin via the plugin manager in AdminCP.

inc/plugins/tr_online_status.php and activate the plugin (Thread Results Online Status) in the plugin manager.

Only one template edit is made.

template name: forumdisplay_thread

before: {$thread['profilelink']}

after: {$thread['online_status']}{{$thread['profilelink']}}

The function uses two hooks and NO additional queries are made. The first hook alters the $ratingadd variable to include u.lastvisit, u.lastactive, u.invisible to be grabbed when querying for the list of forum threads. The second hook processes the online status of the user and displays either online or offline icon.

To change the color of the online/offline icons, simply change the color values for these two variables in the plugin code:

Code $online_color = "#32CD32";

$offline_color = "#666666";

The current colors are designed for a dark theme.

Enjoy!

This seems cool af to me. Could you possibly make it a userscript?

Thanks! Fortunately I have experience creating MyBB plugins so it was quick and easy work here. I would definitely love to see something like this on HF. ?
