Anyone on here still play destiny? I need a good teammate for today to help finish out my doubles wins for my grimoire before the playlist is gone.

I have never played Destiny in my entire life. I have not touched it at all. Is it good?

Yes, I've enjoyed it a lot. Although the lack of more content that hasn't come out in the past year has made it a little boring. Other than that it's a very enjoyable game.

I just downloaded Destiny the other day because my friend had bought it previously.

Hoping it's a good game as I have never played it before. Even though I'm pretty late on playing it lol.

Yeah lol, only late by like 2 years, but it's easier to grind to max light level for you now compared to how it use to be. You use to actually have to farm certain items, now you can just by everything.

I would help you but I've hardly played Destiny
