Tell me in what way do you think creating a thread about losing the alleged trophies will make them magically re-appear?

For all of you assholes starting shit with Goods, stop. He asked a question wondering if it may have happened to anyone else. If you have nothing better to do than slander somebody, then delete your account and go break your Modem/Router.

instagram award was most likely taken down because you took down the post on your ig account or changed name

You can try contacting Omniscient/Staff member and see what they have to say regarding your issue or something like that
