I'd love to enter in this giveaway for 3P1C. I think I deserve this award because of the main reason being my birthday is 4 days, August 13 and obviously who wouldn't want a present. Also, I believe that with 3P1C it would make my profile look more professional therefore bringing my reputation up and portfolio looking better for future sales or reference. With this award I can make fantastic sales with confidence, which will bring me in a great amount of revenue. With that revenue I will begin and continue to host giveaways such as this amazing one you are hosting and give other people that will be in my current position a chance. Thank you for having this giveaway, you are in a fantastic position and giving fantastic opportunities to members.

I would very much like to enter but can we go over 350 characters or is it very specific to that?

Thanks

Cold Hearted - August 10, 2016, 5:08 am

I would like to enter because I believe I have earned myself an upgrade within the community already.

There are a few of my threads. As you can also see, people have thanked me and whatnot for these.

I strive to be high quality & I'm active upon the forums. I do my best to help and push others towards achieving their goals, I feel like an upgrade would get me that extra recognition within HackForums and allow me to be that little bit more high quality.

I would also like to mention that all my guides & tutorials are free and I do not make members pay anything at all, it doesn't credit me in any way and only helps out members of the community.

P.S. I've seen a copy & paste on page 1 of this thread, You may want to do some research ;)

Thanks for this giveaway & good luck to everyone.

Vassilios - August 10, 2016, 5:18 am

I know there will be members that deserve Leet/Uber more than me but I am going to give it a try. I am Vassilis, just a normal teenager from Greece but I am also half German. When I joined HF I was not really active at all and I left, a few months ago I came back because i found Hack Forums more interesting and since then I have been trying to help people to the best of my abilities. At first, I was on the e-whoring section since I had more experience with it than any other section and I have been posting packs and helping members there with anything they might need from websites to advice, after that I got Leet and I have been expanding in other section such as Lounge and the Pokemon section to communicate with more people and generally have fun. Anyways to get to the point I am as active as I can which is a lot, I try to help people and my dreams some day is to make a free middleman service but in order for people to trust me more I have to become an Uber so your upgrade would help me a lot. I also forgot to mention that I would love to become a Writer at some point and I will try my best to achieve that as I love writing articles or just proof reading. Thank you for reading my application and good luck to everyone else!

I would like to win an UBER UPGRADE. Why?

Because I want to become the very best, like no one was. To catch them is my real test, to train them is my cause. Lol, jk. I just want to have an UBER badge because it was so cool to have that thing on your account, right? ?

Anyway, I don't know if you required us to post some contribution but here it is:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5326010>

I only had one because I'm a busy student.

Anyway, good luck to everyone who joins this contest. ?

I would love to be upgraded to UB3R as many people in the Uber community know me already and they just love to talk about their day-to-day problems with me (i give them advice normally).

I am also a very avid user of the uber app as I hate using normal taxis in my country as they charge a lot and never turn on the AC (it gets hot here) so yeah

And also i have received many free rides due to my overwhelming amount of refs that i get.

Even though I have (only) once got in a ride with the wrong Uber driver and after half of the trip, he realized i wasn't the female client he was talking to..

Anyways I really hope I be UB3R soon :)

r421x0 - August 11, 2016, 11:50 pm

I'd like to enter for an upgrade to I33t. I believe that I deserve the rank because: I've helped quite a few members in the Cryptography -> Hashing and Ciphers section. I've cracked hashes, answered questions & posted threads to help.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5371117> - Cryptography F.A.Q & help for beginners thread.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5364282> - Python script that shows how to encrypt a string into SHA1.

Extra's in the section:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5372034&pid=52057397#pid52057397>

 I'm quite active and I believe that if I had I33t that would increase my activity & allow me to help more users as I'd be able to give out private books & tutorials without having to worry about my PM space being full every few seconds.

 I like to give things to communities as soon as I find them. For example:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5371160>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5367553>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5366302>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5366240>

 I can make some entertaining threads which get lots of people awake ;)

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5365518>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5371266>

Here are some reasons why I would like I33t and how it would benefit me: 50 PM limit will be removed. Huge help.  I can rep people who deserve it :)  I can change my username :D  I'll have no posting limits..

Either way, thanks for the giveaways man

Jowan - August 14, 2016, 8:46 am

Hi Don Vasquez.

I should win because I contribute to our community at HF. I do everything to be a helpful user, and are always ready to lend a helping hand. I'm almost always friendly, and love to make new friendships. I always try to contribute new things, like my E Whore guide.

I've actually tried to upgrade myself 2 times. The first time i tried to do a PayPal to Bitcoin exchange, and end up being scammed by a scammer from Hackforums.

The second time, i couldn't have access to my Bitcoin accuont.

Have been feeling to unlucky, and it would be so great to get upgraded soon. I do not really have many options at the moment, just wish i could get upgraded soon.

(: - Wish everyone good luck!

- I really want to be upgraded to L33T.

bandors - August 17, 2016, 10:19 pm

Glad that anyone can try to be upgraded through this thread.

kmz22222 - August 17, 2016, 11:52 pm

I would like to be upgraded to any membership,My HQ Threads are probably FOTDs in the lounge and Hacking tutorials in the hacking tutorials section.

If i got upgraded i will probably be more active and more HQ,Thanks in advance and Good luck to everyone.

TheRedDragon85 - August 18, 2016, 5:08 pm

Just saw that no one has been picked for this week yet so here is my entry: I would love to be upgraded, I haven't been on HF in awhile, and my activity usually comes and goes, but I am about to start more business in the marketplace section and hopefully profits from that can lead me into the currency exchange section. A upgrade helps a lot in the marketplace section, and winning this would quickly get my business up and running as I'm having trouble gathering enough funds for this expense, since I will be selling a service. Godlike to everyone, and thanks to OP for hosting this (WEEEEKLY!?! so generous) thanks again.

SIM-2924679 - August 18, 2016, 5:32 pm

Would love to get the upgrade. I am finally starting to really get into HF. I've came across some really friendly and nice people already, which at first, I didn't really expect to find. Having the upgrade would give me the features, but it would also be nice, since people tend to trust you more if you have a rank, but a low amount of reputation. (Although I am starting to be active on here) I am opening a service offering soon as well. Thank you very much for even doing this giveaway. I love generous people, and I try to be generous as well to the people who deserve it. <3

Devil???????????????? - August 18, 2016, 7:13 pm

I've PMed Omniscient in order to find out whether or not I'm able to perform UB3R upgrades.

darry_TEMP - August 18, 2016, 7:23 pm

I have not been on this web-forum in forever. In fact, I am pretty sure I already had some upgrades on my other account. Administration doesn't seem to care, so I will just exist under this tag.

I would love the chance to be drawn this week. People are much more generous than in '11, '12, '13

Thanks for the give-away and gl everyone.

I want to get upgraded to l33t because when I find some contests interesting but couldn't participate in it because it is only for upgraded people like l33t and ub3r and it feels disappointing and also want to help the members of hack forums in future and I have done my first giveaway and I want to contribute something for hack forums let's try to make this forum popular and more useful to people

Tree of Life - August 22, 2016, 8:48 am

First off, I'd just like to acknowledge and thank you for this opportunity.

I am entering as I would love to receive the account upgrade.

I think that I should be chosen for an upgrade as I am a loyal member to this forum. I try to help people to the best of my ability. I enjoy talking and discussing with other members about anything. I am super eager to learn new things, whatever it may be. With this upgrade, I believe it will motivate me to be even more active, and hopefully assist me in joining a group which is important to me. Also, having account upgrades tends to gain trust from others as it makes you look more legit and dedicated.

Again, a big thank you to Illuminati for this giveaway, and goodluck to all who enter!

TazerNips - August 22, 2016, 8:51 am

I'd like to be upgraded because I have been trying very hard to legitimize myself lately. I understand that rep and member group doesn't determine legitimacy, but let's be honest, people take that stuff into consideration. I am also a bit short on money currently due to investing in several projects that people are going into here on HF because I am expecting and relying on them to take off. I appreciate the giveaway my man, thanks.

VOUCH for this guy. After joining HF community, within a week he organized a giveaway.

Also I personally mentor him.

Faith Connors - August 26, 2016, 7:41 pm

I'm applying for Ub3r please.

Mmm, I should probably start with my time on HF.

You can see up in the top left corner of this post that I signed up for HF in early 2013. Back then I started highschool and wanted to be known as a l33t hacker and build up my rep around that. So I googled "how to hack" and that brought me here. I signed up with the name "aahgfdjhgrhgh" which is pretty damn OG. Had to throw my keyboard down the stairs for that one. Anyway, I signed up, and spent the next day looking at the Hacking Tools section, downloading anything I could find. Probably not the smartest thing to do, stuff could be infected, so on. But I never got around to RATting anyone, so there's a good start. I mostly used DoS tools, though, so I was still skiddy as fuck.

I tried looking at the Beginner's Hacking section, but I didn't even understand the stuff there. I guess I just didn't have the patience to learn anything and I just wanted to fuck shit up, so tools that a 5 year old could use were my main priority.

In case you're wondering, it didn't really have a huge impact on my highschool reputation because I was already kinda edgy.

After about a month, I stopped visiting here. I just got kinda bored, there was only one subforum I liked visiting, after all. So for the next three years, give or take, I sat in school, learned, got a job during the summer, and did pretty much what your average high-school student did. Except I didn't go outside often. None of my friends played any sports or anything, mostly video games. I got addicted to League of Legends, and I realized how much it was ruining my life. I partially blame it for my constant sad mood, along with a few other things, and why I never had a lot of money. I kicked that last year by going cold-turkey. Uninstalled the game, didn't use my computer for about a week. I don't play any video games any more aside from the casual game of osu! and an MMORPG, RIFT. Also very casually.

But during my time in 10th and 11th grade, I took computer science and computer engineering courses. I got really interested in that stuff, and as a side-project I built a small MIDI controller that I could use with my Launchpad. (I have a small interest in music production, so it was nice to build something that could fuel that.) Eventually I started to learn more, got my CompTIA A+ as my first cert later that summer. It felt really good, and I was really starting to understand stuff. I got more motivated to do stuff after kicking my video game addiction, and then I remembered this place.

I came back, logged in, and immediately did what I did back in 2013. I went to the Hacking Tools section. Not much has changed there in three years, really. Except more people ask questions now instead of releasing tools. Now, as I was looking into RATting, I needed to find a crypter. So I searched the crypter section, and found a free one called X-CRYPTER. The only catch was that you had to have a link to the thread in your signature, and you had to post your HWID to get access to using it. I tried to change my sig, but that didn't work. I only had 12 posts. So I did what anyone would do to get post-count up. I loungewhored, except in various parts of the forum. Beginner's section was less intimidating now because I had a much better understanding of what people were asking for. I was able to answer some questions, I vouched for some tools in the, well, tools section. Eventually I hit 50 posts and I put in my HWID and changed my sig for the crypter, but that 50 posts got me active on the forum, and it led me to meeting a guy named Deeg.

Now, if you want to meet him too, have a look at my reputation. Go to the first page, and the first rep ever given to me. I'll tell you the story of that rep.

Deeg was just some l33t guy who was browsing the forums at the same time I was posting. He noticed that some new user was posting really fast, almost spamming. He was probably a little suspicious, but I had 25 posts, so he PMed me.

"I've seen you posting a lot. Why'd you come back after three years?"

I wasn't exactly sure how to answer that question. So I just told him everything I could think of.

I told him about my skiddyness in 2013.

I told him about school and computer science courses that made me remember this place.

I told him why I was posting a lot.

I told him about how green was my favourite color, and how I missed the old green theme that HackForums had in 2013.

I told him how I came up with my name and how I memorized it (Remember, it was aahgfdjhgrhgh at the time.)

Honestly I think I shocked him with how much I wrote, he only responded with "woah."

But now I had a little green number right at the top right corner of my posts. That was from a good friend named Deeg.

Now, I never really ended up using X-CRYPTER, and I'm a little glad, because apparently the author backdoored it then tried to exit scam about a month later. But now I was more active on the forums. I had a hundred-something posts, and I wanted to be more part of the community. In march 2013, I joined Riptide.

Remember how I mentioned that I had some interest in music production? That's what brought me to Riptide. When I joined they were very welcoming, and I was glad to be there. It's a slow sub-forum, but it's nice. Everyone is friendly, there's never any drama, and there are some really talented people in there. Now, I make experimental music, like dark-ambient and doom/drone, so even when I posted those, no one ever really bullied me or anything. It was a nice feeling. Riptide is a great group and I've been there since March. Through the almost-selling point. I survived their inactivity purges, never had to reapply. I love Glitch too. He's a great guy for making a group dedicated to the arts with no autism.

A guy named Bronx upgraded me to l33t after I told him this story, and I'm grateful for him. He's a friendly guy too. I owe him one. But for this application I have to tell you why I'm worthy of Ub3r.

Now, I posted more in the beginner's section, I made a few informational threads, I'll link them at the bottom. But recently, like early August, maybe late July, a user named "surelyenough" joined the forums. He also posted in the beginner's section, and he was actually pretty rude to a lot of newer users, straight up telling them to give up. When I asked him why, he gave really good reasoning, and I could tell that this guy knew what he was talking about.

I wrote more threads, answered more questions, copy/pasted the same reply for people who wanted to hack their spouse's facebook, etc. surelyenough was also there, still BMing. I felt that this guy knew a ton and I was wondering who he actually was. I PMed him about it, and got an answer, I was kinda surprised actually, but I won't post it here, ask me about it in PM if you're curious. He gave me a ton of advice, kinda put me where I'm at today, and was a really nice guy.

Now, as for forum contributions, you should know that most of my posts are in the beginner's section. Just looking through there, you'll find my posts on a lot of people's threads. The most notable thread I've written there was my guide to choosing a programming language, and surelyenough even recommended some edits to it where it wasn't entirely accurate. Check it out: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5374258>

I wrote an ebook too, you're aware of it because you inspired me for it. You can see the thread here. <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5386532>

I think I'll be coming here for a loong time, but I have jack-shit bitcoin, only about 4$ from ebook sales sadly :(I put a bit of effort into it too. I guess an upgrade contest would be the best for now. Thanks for the opportunity man, really appreciate it. Have a good one.

Kyrus - August 26, 2016, 11:58 pm

I believe I would deserve to win this award because of what you did to me during my first trip on Lucy.

As I read through your nonsense, I kept looking up from my phone just to stare at my door and my closet repeatedly in almost perfect 30 second intervals.

I basically completely lost it when my ears started ringing and I begun listening to my own breathing trying to make out if Satan was actually talking to me. Then I when held my breath (not sure why) and still someone heard breathing, I freaked the fuck out and forgot what happened afterwards.

Pion - August 27, 2016, 2:27 am

If I be allowed to join. Thanks man for hosting this contest.

I am sure that I never contributed a worthy thread, and giveaways which I've done don't mean a jack anymore to me. But I believe that even if I have no-where to go, I still own a fury of not leaving this board. It is the silver screen which had me get started, the underground feeling made this lil' underdog stay stick with "I can do something" and here I am still trying out my fate - even today. Will of Worthiness.

That's all about me, I am here to learn, and someday when I've learned plus I'm sure that I've not mistaken what I've learned with something else, and it actually works - I will share them to the community.

? Regards.

Yassuo - August 27, 2016, 3:34 am

I think I deserve this because i've been HQ on all sections and I really want to be upgraded as Uber so I can +3 reps HQ members
