Thread: [\[AlternateDesktops.cmd\] - switch between diferent sets of icons as your desktop icons](#) lets your windows user switch between having different sets of icons as your desktop icons good for if you have private files you want to keep on your desktop and hide/show whenever u want or if your desktop is too cluttered and you want to start over with it but you don't want to delete those files and want to be able to come back to them as your desktop icons later hackforums wont let me post the code in this post, aparently its triggering a code-injection blocker but its right here {AlternateDesktops.cmd's code}

if you want to remove everything from the script open up command prompt and typeCode AlternateDesktops.cmd -remove
