Thread: || DISCUSSION || What super power would you choose?

Confound - August 9, 2016, 9:35 pm

If you could choose any super power or special ability, what would you choose, and why?

I would choose the ability to stop time, while I can still move.

Imagine standing in Times Square and taking $10 from every person's wallet for an hour or two. That's some serious cash without seriously hurting anyone financially.

Spoiler (Click to View) There are also many other benefits from being able to stop time, but that's just one example :)

Let the debate begin:

LUCKYMR7 - August 9, 2016, 9:36 pm

super power to fuck your bitch

I'm going to make this not fun.

I choose the power of controlling elements on the periodic table.

I can make money, build a house, make a human. Bitch I'm unstoppable

Honestly never heard that one before. Very nice.

VXML - August 9, 2016, 9:39 pm

Invisibility beats all.

Nudes, money and free stuff.

V?rt - August 9, 2016, 9:40 pm

Without a doubt ability to control time. No discussion about that, you can benefit and change so many things with that.

Jinu - August 9, 2016, 9:41 pm

I wish to have the ability to operate the time machine.

Zombie? - August 9, 2016, 9:45 pm

100% my one super power would be to mind control, there is no way this couldn't benefit.. fucking bitches, making bank, living your dream life.

Pretty sure 99% of people would chose this.

Raf Simons - August 9, 2016, 9:47 pm

Either full time manipulation or the power of suggestion. Being able to commit a crime, suggest to the police that I didn't and have all suspicion disappear.

it's kinda sad if you need to resort to mind control to get laid.

Allelujah - August 9, 2016, 9:49 pm

I would like to make a penny from everyone in my town every second. That would be cool.

When I fuck kate upton or taylor swift you'll be 100% jealous.

LeonBackward - August 9, 2016, 10:53 pm

Shape Shifting. Get your enemies in serious shit with concrete evidence :D

Omniscient - August 9, 2016, 11:22 pm

I'd like the ability to heal others. I could be both magnanimous or I could go for profit. I'd stay underground though and keep my clientèle very small. I'd heal the incredibly rich for money and earn enough to heal the sick and needy that deserved it.

BR?ND?N - August 9, 2016, 11:29 pm

I'd go the opposite of what Omni said and have the ability to kill anybody with just the desire to do so. Think about it. You are basically a god at that point. They die of heart attack or whatever, and since you don't have to be anywhere near the person to use this power you can't be linked to it. Unless someone knows your little secret.

Does this also imply that you can heal yourself? Or is it strictly "the ability to heal others" as you said?

That's true, but that's why he'd keep his clientele small. You make it big and well-known and you become a target. Keep it small and secretive and the chances are reduced.

keep it secretive and nobody will notice when one of your super rich clients abducts you.

Shadow Reign - August 9, 2016, 11:36 pm

I've always wanted the ability to manipulate matter on the sub-atomic level. You'd be unstoppable. You'd essentially be a god.

Jess. - August 9, 2016, 11:36 pm

This probably sounds super lame, but I'd choose the power of knowledge. What if you could know everything? I recently told this to my sister as a joke, but now that I think about it, it'd be pretty cool.

He used getting laid as an example, with mind control. He could commit any crime and make the police believe he's innocent.

On-topic: I'd pick superspeed.

?yden - August 9, 2016, 11:49 pm

To go back in time or the future with a click of my thumb.

Vegeta - August 10, 2016, 12:15 am

Immortality, I'd love to experience everything this world has to hold for many more years than when I am meant to die.

Imagine being alive hundreds of years from now. Amazing honestly.

DDR3 - August 10, 2016, 12:40 am

I would want to be able to travel forward and back in time

Travel forward in time to see the winning lottery numbers, then go back and pick those number and win. That would be awesome.

Re?olution - August 10, 2016, 12:48 am

Biological immortality, if I could stop aging indefinitely at like 25 that'd be great. Besides the obvious flaw of everyone around you noticing that you don't age it would be fantastic. The reason for choosing it is that there's too much in this world to experience that simply can't be done in your short time here, and I feel it'd be a shame to miss out on what this world has to offer.

Lightning Bow - August 10, 2016, 12:51 am definitely reality manipulation

.Vi. - August 10, 2016, 12:56 am

Mind control would be dope.

Lunar? - August 10, 2016, 1:11 am

Invisibility all the way. You can go anywhere you want and never be seen, steal whatever you want and never be caught or found, win every hide and go seek game.

Steve - August 10, 2016, 1:12 am

I would choose the ability to convince anybody of anything. Second would definitely be the ability to fly.

7 - August 10, 2016, 1:14 am

I think I would choose to be able to manipulate living cells in a similar way Neo controlled the matrix.

I would call the power:
Reality Admin

lol

Fortunate - August 10, 2016, 2:28 am

I would never need sleep.

Just when i want to i can go to sleep for a minute and wake up with the feeling if i would have just slept for 12 hours.

Would be fucking awesome.

Or i could transfer in to any animal whenever i want. If i want to be fast, i'd transfer in to a cheetah, etc.

chuckzoor - August 10, 2016, 2:29 am id like telepathic powers, like move stuff with my mind n what not

Description - August 10, 2016, 2:35 am

I would love to run really fast (like the flash)

You could go anywhere you want, it would be amazing.

Ilforgiatore - August 10, 2016, 3:43 am

I would choose mind control of every single human. I don't want to live so much to get immortal, but with a total mind control of people i would get rich, never get jailed and i could go everywhere.

Keith Ape - August 10, 2016, 3:59 am

Telekinesis because the possibilities are endless.
I can make someone give me money, give me a ride, literally anything.

This is really quite unique - I respect that. You could make some serious money curing Bill Gates if he ever became ill.

Time travel would be awesome, no doubt.

Elric - August 10, 2016, 1:34 pm

I'd choose the power to make anyone happy.

It's a much simpler way of gaining what you really need.

I'd kill to be able to fast travel.

Like gotta get to Game for the release of a new console? ZOOM you're first inline before anyone else had a chance to queue up.

I am still curious to see how other people will respond to this.

Jaxo - August 13, 2016, 5:49 pm

Mind control for sure... Then I could control Omni to heal me forever. Two powers for the price of one.

C4pt4in Ph0enix - August 15, 2016, 6:45 pm

I would love to teleport, Just go from one side of the world to the other would be great. No need to have a car, pay for gas, Plane tickets or anything like that.

Krater+ - August 15, 2016, 6:48 pm

Being invisible would probs be the best. You are literally invincible.

ponytrain - August 15, 2016, 6:51 pm

Mind Reading, I wouldn't want anything that can be directly observed because that would be too obvious. Plus, mind reading would tell you alot about a person and its also really practical. I'd be able to uses it undetected.

Confound - August 15, 2016, 7:07 pm

All seem pretty cool. I wonder if being invisible would really mean you are in fact invincible. What if someone hits you by accident or guesses correctly where you are. Then you really are in trouble.

Maybe the power to change size would be better. That way you'd be able to shrink to a microscopic size and it would be harder for someone to hit or predict where you are.

What if you got stepped on? That's got to be a pretty shit way to die.

Idk I imagined it to be some Antman type of thing where your mass/strength stays the same so you wouldn't die from getting stepped on.

todo2020 - August 15, 2016, 9:21 pm mind control for sure....to manipulate anyone to get what you want....and to do what you want.

stopping time is cool time...but kind of bad too as you'll get older and die at a earlier year won't you?

DLT. - August 16, 2016, 2:41 pm

Personally, If I had the choice of any super power, it would be the ability to heal. I'm not to bothered in terms of personal gain like being immortal or having super strength, course that would be freaking dope but to what extent? Think about having the power to heal those wounded, suffering from diseases that can't be cured. You'd have an ultimate purpose and every life you save would be worth much more than your life of immortality.

You have a very similar idea to that of Omni's. His earlier post suggested the ability to heal, but for profit. Both seem great.

Up In The Smoke - August 16, 2016, 11:02 pm

I'd pick USA, China or Russia and start nuclear war just for the crack.

Maybe I choose Pakistan and go Allahu Akbar on the world.
